Rezoning Move Goes to Board of Supervisors

Mud Slinging Marks Sheriff Campaign

Contra Costa County may well be earning the dubious reputation of having, in its current race for sheriff, one of the dirtiest political campaigns to be waged in the northern part of the state for some time.

The air has been filled with unsubstantiated stories, fictitious documents and wire recordings and just plain slander, as the race between Harry A. Brown of Alamo and B. W. Richardson of Richmond nears the general election November 2.

We have received any number of calls from confused citizens who find it near impossible to find out the facts. Knowing full well, we cannot make all completely clear, The SUN today tackles the problem in the hope of throwing some light on the situation.

While both candidates have been speaking throughout the county at all kinds of meetings, most of the confusion and vilification has been done by the workers themselves.

The SUN finds, and so states at the outset, that the Richardson forces have developed one of the most elaborate smear campaigns you might ever see first hand.

THEY HAVE NOT stopped short of distributing pornographic pictures, but of more significance are fabricated stories of a more elaborate variety which have been circulated with persistence.

A Fictitious Navy Record on Brown

One of the most recent examples of these fictitious fables has to do with Harry Brown's Navy record.

Despite the fact that the Retired Officers Section at Treasure Island will tell anyone who calls that Brown is listed as U.S. Navy, Retired, and that further information is held under tight security, Richardson workers, assuming a really extensive gullibility on the part of the average citizen, have passed around what they describe as a transcript of Brown's official record.

This so-called record alleges that Brown did not serve 20 years in the Navy and was not really retired from the Navy, but discharged as a psychoneurotic.

THE COLD FACTS of the matter are these:

Brown enlisted in the regular Navy in 1924 when he was 17 years of age; went through "boot camp" at Hampton Roads, Virginia; received his first rate, Quartermaster 3/c in 1928; and served on various ships and stations until 1935 when he left the service to become a narcotics agent for the U. S. Customs Service.

In 1940, Brown went back to active duty as a Signalman 2nd Class with the regular Navy and was assigned to San Diego Naval Training Station as an instructor. Later he went to fleet duty and was aboard the U.S.S. Northhampton, a heavy cruiser, when it was sunk in battle November 30, 1942.

Then he served on the light cruiser U.S.S. Denver until 1943, was transferred to the attack transport, U.S.S. President Monroe. In 1943 he was commissioned an Ensign while in Honolulu.

HE ALSO SERVED aboard an attack transport, U.S.S. Rawlins, and a motor torpedo boat mother ship and tender, U.S.S. Acontius, as executive officer on the latter assignment.

Toward the end of the war he resigned his commission to return to Hunters Point Naval Shipyard as Chief Master at Arms until his retirement April 1, 1949.

An enlisted man and an officer, he had taken part in the first Marshall Island attack, the attack on Wake Island, Marcus Island, Tokyo, Midway, Santa Cruz, the first, second and third attacks on Savo Island during the Guadalcanal campaign and the battle of Kula Gulf.

He was in the invasions of Bougainville, the Gilberts, Kwajalein, Eniwetok, Marcus, Saipan, Tinian and Guam.

HE WAS RETIRED, as is the Navy's practice, at the highest rank he had held during his 20 years of service, Lieutenant Junior Grade, and now receives retirement pay which is a regular percentage of a Lieutenant J/G's duty pay.

In the face of this record, the scurrilous document being passed around by Richardson forces is a meaningless piece of paper.

In contrast, Brown supporters have never, to our knowledge, tried to make political hay of the fact that Richardson did not serve in the armed forces during the war or at any other time.

(Editor's note: In the shopping edition of this paper, The SUN said Brown was a Chief Quartermaster and Chief Petty Officer while on duty before the war. This was an error in our reporting. He returned to service in 1940 as a Signalman 2/c and received various promotions through the rank of lieutenant j. g.)

What About the Wire Recording?

An even more elaborate smear against Brown involves a wire recording being circulated by Richardson's campaign manager, Ed Solodyna of Richmond, and others.

It purports to be the record of a conversation between a North Richmond bar owner, who has a record as a dope peddler, and an official of the San Pablo Housing Authority.

"George," the politician, tells "Carl," the housing authority representative that he figures to set up "a corporation" to collect "15 to 25 thousand dollars a year" from gamblers and the like in the Richmond-San Pablo area, presumably as "protection money," although this is never explained.

"GEORGE" CLAIMS that he has arranged the "deal" with Brown, in exchange for providing funds to finance the latter's campaign for sheriff.

"George" says, "I know (Attorney General) Pat Brown . . . Pat told me that if they blast me, I should give the papers to him for fixing. They troubled me two or three times already before Pat was elected."

"Our district takes in Port Chicago, Crockett, Rodeo, Pinole, Pittsburg, Brentwood, Oakley, North Richmond and the other colored districts," "George" says, in urging "Carl" to join the "corporation."

"OTHERS WILL take care of Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and up to Martinez," he adds.

He talks about getting "a percentage from juke boxes, pin ball and other machines, stud games, craps and whatever else runs," and also mentions prostitution.

"George" is supposed to be George Bally who has talked to people about voting for Brown. "Carl" is alleged to be Carl Davis of the San Pablo Housing Authority.

Just who "George" and "Carl" are, if they are anybody at all, is not substantiated in any way. There is no proof—no documents or affidavits which, if signed, sworn and notarized, would serve as proof.

BALLY AND DAVIS have been unavailable to The SUN. Davis is reported "on vacation" and Bally could not be reached.

Asked about Bally, Brown says, "Anything he may have done in my campaign is unauthorized. I do not want his support and I have insisted that he stop, but he continues to talk for me."

"If I am elected and Bally violates the law at any time, I personally will arrest him," Brown adds.

It is significant that this wire recording and the information it contains has never been published in a newspaper where it would have to be substantiated by fact, if the newspaper were not to become liable under the libel laws.

It was taken to the editors of the San Francisco Chronicle and the San Francisco Examiner; neither would print it or even a story about it.

Brown has completely disavowed Bally, an ignominious bar-owner from a section of Richmond.

In contrast, Richardson has never publicly disavowed Bill Pechart, the gambling czar, who has been reported as a supporter of Richardson. Pechart has Richardson compaign signs in the window of his building.

In 1950 the Kefauver Crime Investigation Committee stated that the gambling syndicate operated by Pechart and Dave Kessel in this county was "the biggest, boldest, most wide-open operation of its kind in Northern California."

RICHARDSON HAS NOT even said publicly that he will prevent Pechart from operating in the county, if elected sheriff, despite the fact that he has been asked to do so.

Instead, Richardson and his supporters have said that they know of no gambling in Contra Costa County.

Past grand juries, including the 1953-54 grand jury, have cited gambling and lack of law enforcement in this county by both county and city law enforcement officials.

There are others working for Richardson, too. Almost all bars in the county are passing out the word for him. Most of them display Richardson signs in prominent spots.

Campaigning at Taxpayers Cost

One of the most often mentioned groups working for Richardson's campaign is composed of some deputies and others in Sheriff Jim Long's department.

Primarily, they include the older members of the force who have been in the department since the old days of wide-open gambling. Their active part in the Richardson campaign can be accounted for, at least in part, by the fact that Sheriff Long is supporting Richardson.

A record of political activity by these civil service employees who are prohibited by law from any kind of political action whatsoever, either on the job or off, is being kept.

Deputy Allan Rhodes, for example, made a political speech for Richardson before the oil workers union in Martinez. While on duty,

Lucky Store Site To Be Used for Parking Relief

The site of the proposed Lucky Store at Orinda Crossroads will be used as a parking area until construction begins on the building about the first of the year, it was revealed Tuesday at the noon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Willows

The space to be utilized by the Broadmoor Improvement Company as a parking area, is adjacent to the Sprouse-Reitz building and will accommodate about 125 cars, Horace Breed told the Chamber. He said after completion of the store 85 cars will be parked.

Ramsay Underwood, member of the Orinda Association's Incorporation Study Committee presented facts contained in the Coro Foundation report on incorporation of Orinda

Ernest Poll president of the Chamber, said the group's November 2 meeting will also be devoted to a program on incorporation, in which two Orinda businessmen will take pro and con sides on the issue. A 20-minute discussion will follow the talks.

Breed told the group that other possibilities for commuter parking are being investigated. Stan Allen reported he will contact local merchants for cooperation in resurfacing the available area.

PREPARING TO "DIG OUT" for the second annual "Harvest Fair" are these members of Orinda Cub Scout Pack 52. Richard Bedayn, Tommy Gattney and Doug Silva are among those who will present a "Hot Rod" booth at the festival to be held tomorrow at Glorietta School. Funds will be used to cover operational expenses of the 10 dens and to provide for Christmas charity work.

Pamphlet Will Tell Activities Of Association

Orinda Association activities, particularly the organization's fight for satisfactory planning and zoning will be related in a pamphlet to be published soon by the National Municipal League.

Association President Zach Montgomery said yesterday that in a letter to him John E. Bebout, assistant director of the league, stated:

"As I think you know, we expect to use your experience as one of a limited number of examples of effective citizen organization in small communities, in a pamphlet that we will be issuing sometime within the next few months."

BEBOUT ASKED to be informed of further developments in Orinda during the next few months.

His letter was in reply to one from Montgomery, in which Montgomery stated he would be unable to attend the league's annual conference in Kansas City, Mo., November 7-10.

Montgomery had been invited to participate in a panel session on "Organized Citizens at Work" at the conference.

THE ASSOCIATION HEAD offered to give the league any information needed, including developments on planning, zoning and incorporation.

The National Municipal League, which describes itself as "a citizens' organization for better government," has headquarters at 542 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Trace of Rain Recorded Here

Although the mercury jumped to 91 during the past week, Orinda weather stayed primarily on the mild side, with only a small hint of the coming winter rains.

High for the week was of course the above-mentioned 91, registered last Friday. The low was the 41 marked up on Wednesday. On Tuesday, .20 of an inch of rain was measured, making the weather year's total in this area .55 of an inch (the weather year began July 1).

Here are the week's temperatures.

Pros, Cons Being Studied as Orindans Prepare for Decision on Incorporation

With decision to be made within a few weeks on whether Orinda should take steps toward becoming a sixth class city, community interest in incorporation has reached new intensity.

At last week's "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium it was announced that at another "Town Hall" meeting to be held about 30 days later the residents will make the decision.

In the meantime, individuals and community organizations, including neighborhood improvement associations, are studying the Coro Foundation's incorporation report for Orinda, which was discussed at last week's Orinda Association-sponsored gathering.

ALSO BEING PERUSED are general arguments for and against incorporation, as listed in "Annexation? Incorporation? A Guide for Community Action," by Stanley Scott.

Mimeographed sheets giving these arguments were distributed to the 200 persons at last week's meeting. The second edition of the book was published last March by the Bureau of Public Administration, University of California, Berkeley.

Here are the arguments presented by Scott:

FOR INCORPORATION:

"1. Incorporation will provide a city government through which the community can express itself, meet its problems and supply necessary services. The community will no longer have to depend solely on the county and special districts.

"2. Cities are traditionally more responsive than counties to the needs of urban communities.

"3. Cities possess the police power and are thus able to take action against nuisances of all kinsd, whereas there are limitations on the power of counties to protect residents of any individual unincorporated community against activities which are not prohibited on a county-wide basis.

"4. A CITY IS ABLE to plan for the future growth of the community and can zone its area against undesirable uses of land.

"5. It is probable that incorporation will result in more and better public services.

"6. Incorporation will provide a means of coordinating the public services being supplied separately by several special districts. Increased efficiency, greater economy and improved services can be expected to result from coordination.

"7. INCORPORATION WILL result in more effective citizen control of government.

"If a community's services are provided by separate special districts, the local public functions are distributed among numerous independent elected or appointed boards. The voters are called upon to make choices among candidates for many different boards, a task that is frequently difficult to perform intelligently.

"It is easier for the citizens to make a wise choice if they are voting for members of a single city council responsible for all (or most) of the local public functions.

"8. Incorporation increase a community's political effectiveness and confers added powers for self-determination of local affairs. Responsibility for many local functions will shift from the county to the new city.

"INSTEAD OF having to rely for political representation upon a single member of the five-man County Board of Supervisors, the community will be able to choose its own governing body, the city council.

"9. A community represented by a city government is in a good position to meet the competition of other municipalities in the struggle to attract new business, whereas an unincorporated community is at a disadvantage.

"10. Separate incorporation may help to preserve the unity and pride of a community, as well as its individuality.

"11. IF IT APPEARS likely that a nearby city will annex portions of an unincorporated community, and if the community does not wish this to happen, separate incorporation will provide effective protection.

"Similarly, a community wishing to preserve its present characteristics — for example, a rural-tye settlement with low population density and large-sized lots — may do so by means of the zoning powers inherent in a city government.

"12. The act of incorporation is not irrevocable. If, after having incorporated, the community is not satisfied with its status, it may utilize a disincorporaion procedure involving a petition by 20 per cent of the qualified voters and a favorable decision in a citywide election."

AGAINST INCORPORATION:

"1. Incorporation may be unnecessary if a community's needs are limited. Residents may prefer to organize a special district or utilize other alternative methods of supplying services.

"2. Separate incorporation of an area which is economically or physically part of a larger community may produce a 'rump' city with in-

Eight in Race For 4 Directors Of Association

Eight candidates whose names will appear on the ballot in the Orinda Association's election of four directors next month were announced by Chairman Fred Fox of the association's nominating committee yesterday.

Each association district in which a vacancy occurs the end of the year is to be represented by a new director. Two candidates have been chosen, and have agreed to run, from each of the districts. However, election of all directors is by all association members throughout Orinda.

THE CANDIDATES are:

District 3—Carol (Mrs. Robert D. Harrison, Theodore D. Sanford.

District 4—Frederick A. Sawyer, Thomas W. Sibary.

District 8—Clinton T. Hallsted, Paul L. Pollaczek.

GENERAL DESCRIPTIONS of the districts follow:

District 3—Orinda Estates and along Miner Road.

District 4—Charles Hill Road-Davis Road — Overhill Road area.

District 7—Orchard Road and Moraga Highway, to and including the Valley View Drive-Crest View section.

District 8—Glorietta and Moraga Meadows areas and the Hillcrest-Overhill section to Martha Road.

DIRECTORS whose terms expire the end of this year are President Zach Montgomery, Vice-President Nathan Gray, George Hauerken and Frank Cayting.

On the nominating committee with Fox are Mrs. T. D. Sanford and Mrs. George F. Hickok. The three are on the association's Civic Affairs Committee, which is in charge of the annual nominating and election procedure. They were appointed to the nominating committee by Civic Affairs Chairman Tevis Thompson.

BALLOTS ARE scheduled to be mailed by November 3 and to be returned by November 13. Newly elected directors will take office in January.

Most of the candidates had been agreed upon by the time the Civic Affairs regular meeting was held Monday night at Orinda School, but the full list was not announced until yesterday.

Fox said the ballot will have space for names of write-in candidates for whom association members may wish to vote.

Schools Will Be Closed Monday

The Orinda Nursery School, along with other Orinda Schools, will be closed Monday on Teachers' Institute Day.

Nursery school director, Mrs. William A. Patterson, and teachers, Mesdames R. H. Laney, Henry Harris, Peter Veitch and H. H. Fitzsimmons will observe the day by visiting other nursery schools in the Bay Area.

Any mother of nursery school pupils who wishes to accompany the teachers on the observation tour may do so, Mrs. Patterson said.

Crosswalk at School Removed

Removal of one of two crosswalks at the Orinda Union School was reported this week by Frank Isola, physical education instructor at the school.

Isola said the elimination of the crosswalk at the south end of the school is based on recommendations of the California Highway Patrol. The other crosswalk is located at the north end of the school.

"We are continuing to urge motorists to slow down to 15 miles per hour in the school vicinity between 8 and 9:15 a.m.," Isola said.

Scheduling of Hearing Expected At Tuesday's County Board Meeting

By signing the findings of its technical staff, the County Planning Commission Wednesday night formally recommended Retail Business rezoning for some 25 acres on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road and rejected the proposal for R-B rezoning of the Pine Grove.

These actions on East Bay Municipal Utility District's application have been forwarded to the Board of Supervisors, which will conduct a public hearing of its own on the controversy.

Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said yesterday that scheduling of a hearing will probably be done at next Tuesday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

THE COMMISSION ACTION spurred the protest petition drive in Orinda against R-B rezoning of the land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road between the Village and Crossroads.

Throughout the community, members of neighborhood improvement clubs and other organizations are signing the petition, which urges that on the San Pablo Dam Road land "there be created a new planned unit development adequate to provide properly the shopping facilities needed by the residents of Orinda."

Circulation of the petitions by the Orinda Association's Orinda Planning Committee got under way early last week, following the Planning Commission's instructions to its technical staff to prepare the findings which were presented and adopted Wednesday night.

IN ANOTHER central Orinda zoning matter, the supervisors yesterday morning scheduled November 19, 10 a.m., as the date for a hearing on Dr. W. F. Thomas' application for Retail Business rezoning of Lot 42 at the corner of Moraga Highway and Southwood Drive.

The Planning Commission has recommended denial of the Thomas application.

The Thomas property, like that involved in the EBMUD application, is now zoned Residential-Agricultural.

ALL NINE parcels fronting on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road between the Vilage and the interchange have now been purchased from EBMUD by firms, individuals or partnerships, or have been contracted for.

However, the application for rezoning of that area and the Pine Grove was filed over 16 months ago by EBMUD, which then owned all the land.

Chairman James Hupp of the Orinda Planning Committee told the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee at Orinda School Monday night:

"THE BASIC ISSUE is whether we're going to have planning in this county according to good planning principles or according to political expediency."

Hupp mentioned the unsuccessful efforts of the association to get the Planning Commission to establish a Special Business District for the area along the west side of San Pablo Dam Road.

"The Planning Commission went about this Special Business District matter in the wrong way," he declared.

"Francis Violich, our Planning Committee's consultant, tells me that ordinarily a planning commission asks the owners of parcels to bring in their plans. That's how it was done in Palo Alto and in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

"Here, the commission didn't do that."

Hupp urged that in addition to signing the protest petition, residents write individual letters to each of the five county supervisors.

"WE WILL ASK for an evening session for the hearing before the supervisors," he stated. "We want as large a turnout from Orinda as possible."

Hupp recalled that last April Chairman H. L. Cummings of the Board of Supervisors, who is supervisor from this district, stated that a master plan for central Orinda was expeced to be ready in six months.

"The six months were up October 6," Hupp observed.

Work Begins Next Week on Widening Moraga Highway

Work will begin next week on the widening and paving of Moraga Highway between Glorietta Boulevard and Moraga Junction (St. Marys Road), according to Pete Sorensen of Concord, the County Highway Department's resident engineer on the project. The distance involved is 3.1 miles.

Sorensen said the stretch will remain open at all times for traffic during the work, and that beginning next week cars will be detoured through Moraga during the construction of a concrete bridge over the creek there.

Grading of the road will begin next April and work on the entire stretch should be completed by next fall, according to Sorensen.

When finished, the road will have two lanes 12 feet wide and 8 foot shoulders. Asphalt paving will be used.

The present road is an asphalt-paved stretch 20 feet wide with no shoulders.

The resident engineer pointed out that the county has purchased enough additional land for a right-of-way 80 feet wide, thus making it possible for a future four-lane highway.

O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley are in charge of all contracting work involved in the road project. They estimate the work will cost $285,577.30. The project is covered in a $10,250,000 bond issue for county road work passed in the June, 1952, election.

Sorensen said work between now and next April will mainly involve installation of cross-drainage materials, culverts, etc.

County highway officials directing the project are Victor Sauer, county road commissioner; William Dalton, the County Highway Department's construction engineer, and Ray Brown, the department's design engineer.

Rotary Hears Pro-Con Views On Incorporation

Pro and con views on the question of incorporating Orinda were featured at the noon meeting at the Willows Wednesday of the Orinda Rotary Club. Joe Creighton spoke in favor of incorporation and Clarence Betz was on the negative side.

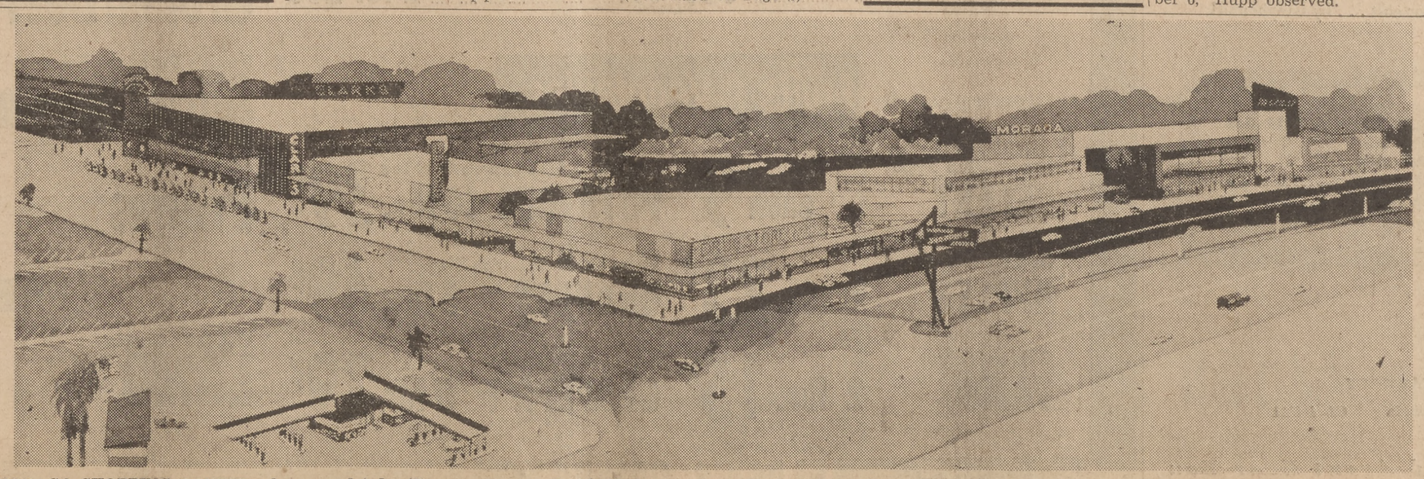
The program was a carryover from the October 13 meeting at which Ramsay Underwood, member of the Orinda Association's Incorporation Study Committee, discussed the issue.

Creighton emphasized the benefits of self government resulting from incorporation. Betz stressed the higher tax rate involved in incorporation.

Following the talks, Underwood, Creighton and Betz answered questions from the audience.

At next Wednesday's Rotary meeting at the Willows, Professor Everett Howe of Orinda will talk on the United Nations. Associate dean of engineering at the University of California, Howe recently returned from a trip to Europe, North Africa and Iceland, during which he represented the U.S. government.

The inter-city meeting of Orinda, Lafayette, Albany, and North Oakland Rotary Clubs will be held Wednesday, November 3, at the Willows. Speaker at the noon session will be Sudarmo Martonagoro, foreign exchange student at the University of California, whose subject will be "Southeast Asia."



MORAGA SHOPPING CENTER when completed will appear as shown in this architect's sketch. First unit, the $250,000 Clark's Market at Rheem Boulevard and Jonas Hill Road, is having its gala opening this weekend. For details about the new store and the plans for an eventual 100-acre development by owner Donald L. Rheem, see inside pages.

Candidates Will Debate Issues in Las Lomas High

Candidates for Sheriff, Assembly and Congress will debate issues Wednesday night in Las Lomas High School at 8 p.m. at a public meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Democratic Congressman Robert L. Condon and his Republican opponent, John Baldwin, will discuss the assigned topic, "What is your stand on continued United Nations support and support for U.S. trade policies which will help solve national and international economic problems?"

REPUBLICAN ASSEMBLYMAN Donald D. Doyle and his Democratic opponent, Edward N. Munns, will each answer the question "What legislation would you be most interested in seeing introduced in the coming session?"

And sheriff candidates B. W. "Dick" Richardson and Harry A. Brown will speak on "What is your proposed program for the administration of the office of sheriff as particularly applies to this area?"

The six office seekers will speak for eight minutes and their positions will be determined by the drawing of straws. Superintendent James Dent of Mt. Diablo Unified School District will moderate.

A QUESTION PERIOD will follow each set of candidates where only written queries which are signed by their authors will be considered.

A non-partisan service organization whose purpose is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government, the sponsoring league is part of a national organization and has members in Concord, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Danville and Lafayette.

It will also serve its purpose by mimeographing biographical data on all the candidates and distributing them at the meeting.

THE LEAGUE WILL, however, prohibit the distribution of candidates' literature at the meeting.

Two chapters of Junior Statesmen, a high school organization dedicated to making democracy work, will assist in the meeting.

Mt. Diablo High School chapter will aid in distributing leaflets advertising the event and Las Lomas High School chapter will provide ushers.

UC Play Cast

Sally Shipley of Lafayette will appear in the fall production of the Daviscal Players, the dramatic group on the Davis campus of the University of California.

Sally will potray the part of Cecily Cardew in Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest." The play will be presented Wednesday and Thursday under the sponsorship of the College of Letters and Science in cooperation with the Daviscal Players.

Robin Muse Is 'Holding Own' After Accident

Reported "holding his own" at Oakland's Peralta Hospital is Robin Muse of Orinda, 16-year-old boy who received severe head injuries in an auto accident Sunday on Camino Diablo just south of Canton Road.

Robin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muse of 8 Camino Encinas, underwent a successful brain operation late Sunday night at Peralta, but is still considered on the critical list. Dr. Philip Van Horn neuro-brain surgeon of Oakland performed the operation.

The accident occurred when the car in which Robin was a passenger failed to make a curve, went out of control, and hit an embankment at a culvert. Driver of the car, John Tibbetts, 15, of 1 Camino Diablo, Moraga, received minor bruises. Both youths were taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital immediately following the accident, after which Robin was transferred to Peralta for treatment of a fractured skull and other head injuries.

Robin's father reports his son is in a state of semi-coma at the present time, yet is able to reply coherently when questioned and apparently understands what's going on around him.

The injured youth is an Eagle Scout and graduated last June from Acalanes High School. Since that time, he has been taking post-graduate courses in preparation for college.

He recently underwent a foot operation at Peralta for a polio affliction.

The right front of the car driven by Tibbetts was badly damaged. Tibbetts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Reginald Tibbetts of 1 Camino Diablo, Moraga.

Suit Seeks to Annul Marriage

Annulment of his marriage to Gay Brooding is asked in a suit filed for Larry Deane Brooding, 19, through his father, Milton Brooding of Mira Loma, Orinda. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hanson of 3797 Highland Road, Lafayette.

The complaint, filed in Superior Court in Martinez by the law firm of Edwards and Friborg, charges that the marriage was performed last January after Larry Brooding was threatened by Mr. and Mrs. Hanson.

It also alleges that 6-month-old Larry Deane Brooding II is "not an issue of said marriage."

Attorney Philip L. Evans, representing the defendant, said yesterday he will file a new answer and cross-complaint by Monday. An earlier answer and cross-complaint had been filed, but Judge Wakefield Taylor recently sustained the plaintiff's demurrers and gave the defense until Monday for new filing.

Trial date has not been scheduled.

Orindans Talk Of Incorporation

adequate resources to provide for its needs.

"Particularly if the community is wholly or predominantly residential, it may discover after incorporation that it is able to support only a minimum level of local public services.

"3. THE PROPOSED CITY may not only have inadequate resources, but may also be insufficient as a planning area.

"Effective planning cannot be done piecemeal, yet separate incorporation means that the city, however unsatisfactory, will be the unit for local planning and zoning.

"4. Separate incorporation of individual communities which are part of a larger metropolitan region will create a dispersed governmental structure in areas where a single city, or a smaller number of cities, could have been established.

"5. INCORPORATION OF territories in an urban fringe may block the future growth of the central city, to the detriment of the whole metropolitan community.

"6. If the community has certain rural characteristics which its residents wish to retain, incorporation may be viewed as an undesirable step toward urbanization."

Don't play "hide and seek" with that traffic officer, advises the National Automobile Club. He's not out there to spoil your fun. He's out there to remind you of the rules and regulations of safe driving. He's out there to keep you from killing yourself.

Women with Pledge Cards March In United Crusade's Residential Drive

Women volunteers armed with pledge cards, window stickers and informational literature launched the residential drive of the Diablo Valley United Crusade this week in an attempt to raise some $10,000 toward the $46,800 goal of the area in the 1954 campaign.

The remainder of the quota is allotted to schools, commerce and industry, public employees, district business and special gifts divisions.

Because of the large percentage of commuters, a telephone campaign is preceding the house to house canvass in Orinda and Lafayette. Approximately 150 women in each commnuity are participating.

To tie in with the "Give Where You Work" campaign policy, residential workers telephone in advance to set up appointments for personal calls and to determine whether prospective donors have had an opportunity to contribute at their places of business.

"IN MANY INSTANCES," Fitch Robertson, Diablo Valley Community Fund chairman, stated, "housewives wish to make their own individual contributions to support local agencies receiving funds from the United Crusade."

"We urge generous support of these agencies which are so important to our growing communities," he added.

Receiving funds from the United Crusade are: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Young Men's Christian Association, Children's Home Society, United Service Organization, White Cane, Shadelands School for Cerebral Palsied Children, the learn to swim program in the Mt. Diablo United School District, and services to local residents from Children's Hospital of the East Bay and Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Pleasant Hill staged a one-night drive Tuesday with 350 women crusaders ringing doorbells. Division chairmen, under the direction of Mrs. William Ferguson, included: Mesdames E. C. Leoppard, Harold Lind, A. N. Harlow, Donald P. Hupman, and Theodore Butterfield.

Donors are asked to display stickers in windows after making gifts to the United Crusade at home or the special sticker provided at the place of business, if the donation was made at work.

IN OTHER DIVISIONS, first chapter to turn in a final report was the Acalanes Union High School District in the schools division, Chairman David B. Stewart Saturday turned in $1069.50, for 29 per cent of the $3600 quota for the entire division. This chapter comprise Acalanes and Las Lomas High Schools. Elementary schools are formed into another chapter.

The drive in the local business division, with a quota of $14,110 has been under way since October 5. Local chairmen of this division include: Allen Douglas, Walnut Creek; Ramsay Underwood, Orinda-Moraga; Jack Pedder, Lafayette; Dr. Lee Winters, Pleasant Hill and Horace Van Gordon, Danville-Alamo-San Ramon.

Charles D. Gable, chairman of the commerce and industry division, reports that gifts of 83 firms are exceeding last year's donations. This is also true, said Gable, of the employee contributions throughout the area.

Partial returns from employees of the large stores in Walnut Creek show 93 per cent of the employees of H. C. Capwell Company have contributed $1367.20.

A FINAL RETURN shows the employees of J. C. Penny Company with 100 per cent participation and $588. Congratulations to the J. C. Penny Company employees, Gable said, for having more than doubled their last year's contributions. Reports from the San Francisco Bank show 82 per cent of the employees participating with contributions of $163.

In the residential drive, local chairmen direct activities of section chairmen and division chairmen, who, in turn appoint committee women to contact residents.

Douglas Cowan is chairman for the Walnut Creek residential campaign. Division chairmen assisting him are: Mario H. Menesin, Mrs. Lee Kidwell, Mrs. R. Hansen, Harry Akers, E. O. Condeff, Mrs. H. Walker McKevitt Jr. and Mrs. John H. Strong and Mrs. Ariadne Dekar.

Diablo Valley quotas by communities are: Orinda, $4500; Lafayette, $6000; Walnut Creek, $8810; Pleasant Hill, $2500, and Danville-Alamo-San Ramon $4500.

Few Details on Railroad Decision Made Available

Little further information is available concerning the consultant's recommendation that the Sacramento Northern Railroad "does not offer possibilities as a rapid transit route," Executive Secretary A. M. Cohan of San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Trasit Commission has indicated.

The recommendation was contained in a letter from Cohan read to the County Board of Supervisors last week and in response to their request the route be considered.

COHAN REFERRED to a special study by Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and MacDonald, a New York consulting firm employed by the commission for a full scale survey of the nine Bay Area counties.

And his letter said the study was based on estimated development of the area, a comparison of the railroad with possible alternate routes, topography, and estimated passenger potential.

However, when questioned as to what alternate routes the railroad had been compared to, Cohan replied, "That information is not available for release."

HE SAID HE HAD a highly technical report on changes that would be necessary in grades and curves in the present roadbed.

However, no total cost of these changes had been estimated, he said.

THE LONELY VIGIL. Scannig the skies so that in the unhappy event unfriendly aircraft should attack this area they would be detected are Hugh Webster and Mrs. I. E. Salisbury, volunteer workers at the Lafayette Ground Observer Corps post. More workers are needed for this important chore and volunteers may enlist by calling Mrs. Salisbury at AT 3-2691. — SUN Photo by Mattson

Ribbon to be Cut Today for First Unit of PH Road

Central Contra Costa today at 11 a.m. will see placed in service the first unit of Pleasant Hill Road to be rebuilt under a $1,300,000 allocation in the 1952 $10,250,000 County Highway Bond Issue.

Joining with members of the Board of Supervisors and guests will be J. Nelson, H. B. LaForge, Fred Montell, R. P. Duffy and G. L. Beckwith, Federal and State Engineers. Their presence is in recognition of federal appropriation of $193,600 and state allocation of $50,000 for the road, at a total cost of $440,000.

THE HIGHWAY SECTION, all new construction, lies in the districts of Board Chairman H. L. Cummings and Supervisor Ray Taylor. The latter will preside at a ribbon cutting ceremony at the formal opening.

"It has been eight years since we began strenuous efforts for the building of this new highway link and improving other portions of the Pleasant Hill highway," Taylor said today.

"It took the highways selling job of 1952 to get the program, but it has been worth waiting for. We are right up-to-date with the most modern of county highways and a protected state intersection."

Board Chairman Cummings said that this first unit of the Central County Highway will bring benefits to 100,000 people.

"It means a better and shorter link to the County Seat for people in Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Saranap, Danville, Lafayette and Orinda. We are hopeful of now speedily achieving improvement of other sections of the Pleasant Hill highway," Cummings said.

ROAD COMMISSIONER Victor Sauer, under whose department's supervision the highway was constructed by Contractor Eugene G. Alves Construction Company, said the next work on Pleasant Hill highway is contemplated between Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Geary Road.

The entire Pleasant Hill program places that road as the second largest bond issue project in the county, exceeded only by the San Pablo Dam Road. Kirker Pass Road, soon to go to bid, and the Crockett cut-off follow in cost.

The new first unit of Pleasant Hill Road extends directly southerly from Alhambra Avenue, Martinez, and makes a sweeping curve eastward to connect with the old highway. It affords a more direct and shorter approach to Alhambra Valley from Martinez.

THE HIGHWAY IS OF two-lane construction, breaking into four-lanes on hills and it employs modern drainage techniques in hilly sections. It eliminates, for Alhambra Valley and Pleasant Hill traffic, an existing dangerous, unsignaled crossing long protested by users.

Placed in service simultaneously with the new road will be a four-way signal stop system at its intersection with Arnold Industrial Highway with channelization and illumination provided by the California Division of Highways.

Gregory Busch Improving After Recent Surgery

Gregory Busch, 7-year-old Lafayette boy who narrowly escaped electrocution last week, already has tackled a few school lessons from his hospital bed after undergoing a successful skin graft operation last Friday at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Greg, who will probably be confined to the hospital for several months, is enjoying most the numerous "get well" cards and leters from his fellow classmates at Montecito School and other friends.

Son of the Oscar J. Busches of 910 Carl Avenue, Lafayette, Gregory was badly burned on his left foot and right hand October 13 when he grabed a power line while climbing in a tree in the back yard of his home. He was hurled 30 feet to the ground.

Doctors say the youth must undergo seevral operations, each separted by a few weeks, before he can be released from the hospital, according to his mother.

Mrs. Busch says she has received "a deluge of phone calls and letters" from residents throughout the East Bay area.

"People offered their time, money, cars, blood, and most precious of all, their prayers," she relates in a letter to The SUN.

"Dozens of groups, which must have comprised thousands of people in the area, called to say that they would like to pray.

"We are humbly grateful for all this sympathy from our friends and from hundreds of strangers."

Election of officers will also be held by the association, which includes superintendents, principals and other administrators from the 34 school districts of the county.

PRECEDING THE EVENING meeting, the elementary school section of administrators will convene at 4:45 p.m. under the chairmanship of Robert V. White, principal of Williams School, Concord.

A panel of teachers will speak on faculty meetings from the standpoint of the teacher.

2 Area Men Get Key Promotions On SF Chronicle

Two Central Contral Costa County residents have been promoted to key positions on the San Francisco Chronicle during the past week.

Gordon Pates of 3665 Boyer Circle, Lafayette, has been appointed managing editor, replacing L. S. (Larry) Fanning, who resigned last week.

Phelps Dewey of 143 Canon Drive, Orinda, has been named to Pates' former post as director of promotion. When Pates held that job he had the title of director of promotion and research.

Pates lives with his wife, Lorraine, and their two children, Bonnie, 10, and Bill, 7. The youngsters attend Lafayette School—Bonnie is in the fifth grade, Bill in third.

Dewey lives with his wife, Virginia, and their two children, Richard, 4, and Susan, 6 months old.

PATES, 38, has been on the Chronicle staff since 1939. A native of San Francisco, he came to the paper as a copy boy after graduating from the University of Washington. in 1948 he won the National Headliner Award for outstanding domestic news reporting.

He was named editor of This World, Sunday Chronicle magazine supplement, in 1949, and later was promoted to Sunday editor of the paper. His most recent job before becoming managing editor was as director of promotion and research.

He was in the Army and Air Force during World War II, serving in the United States and the Philippines.

DEWEY, 26, and his family have lived in Orinda a month and a half. Before that they lived in Lafayette for six months. They came to this area from Santa Fe, N. M.

Dewey was publisher of the Espanola Valley News, a weekly newspaper at Espanola, N. M., and he was an advertising salesman for the Coloradoan, a daily at Ft. Collins, Colo.

Born in Minneapolis, Dewey attended Berkshire School at Sheffield, Mass., and Dartmouth College.

Danner Elected New President Of Commuters

Fred Danner of Walnut Creek was elected president of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association in a special meeting of the association board Tuesday evening at Acalanes High School.

Leroy Sowers of Lafayette was named vice-president, Hugh Morison of Walnut Creek, treasurer, and Mrs. Sadie Buchanan, also of Walnut Creek, secretary.

Mrs. Buchanan and Morison were elected to the board last week for 2-year terms. Danner and Sowers became directors in 1953.

THE NEW PRESIDENT commutes to San Francisco. The other three officers work in Oakland.

Danner announced that he will appoint committee chairmen very soon to continue the work now under way.

HE PRAISED the outgoing officers for progress made this past year on bus service and highway congestion problems.

He pointed out that there may be continuing problems of the same sort in the coming year, which he said he will do his best to handle.

Danner stressed that the wholehearted support of the directors is necessary for successful accomplishment.

School Building Needs Explained To Senate Group

Contra Costa County will need at least $9 million for school construction this year to help house the 5000 additional pupils who came to schoool this fall and 15,000 more who are on double session, Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga told the Senate Committee on Education at hearings in Oakland Tuesday to determine future amounts of state aid.

De Fraga informed the committee that on top of the present staggering needs, the county faces the prospect of additional children from thousands of new homes projected in San Ramon, Moraga and Pinole Valleys and in West Contra Costa.

The San Ramon development is planned to add from 4000 to 9000 new homes, while the Moraga development has been announced as providing for 20,000 residents. Both of these,, De Fraga pointed out, will occur in areas where there are now two-teacher schools.

De Fraga told the committee that local districts are straining to the ultimate to provide school facilities but are still unable to keep up. Elementary district tax rates in the county, he stated, range as high as $1.74, and all but four of the 24 elementary districts are levying tax rates above the legal tax ceiling, as approved by their local electorate. A similar situation exists among the high school districts.

Mrs. Doris Loveridge, board member of Mt. Diablo Unified District, testified before the committee that her district alone will need a minimum $10,800,000 for school construction by 1964.

As an indication of the continuing school problem in suburban areas, where young families are in the majority, Mrs. Loveridge quoted the October enrollment in kindergarten and the first three grades at 8138 and the enrollment in the four grades of high school at 2955.

Boy Scouts Award Order of Arrow

During the month of September, throughout the Diablo Valley area, Boy Scout troops elected members to OoYumbuli Lodge, Order of the Arrow, announced Ray Van Tassell, chapter adviser.

Results of these elections were made known recently at the lodge executive board meeting at Acalanes High School. About 70 Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult scouters are expected to go through their Ordeal Ceremony atop Mt. Diablo this weekend.

The Order of the Arrow, which was founded in 1915, is a national society of the Boy Scout and Explorer honor campers. Scouts are elected into this brotherhood by their fellow campers in the scout troop or other unit because they have shown ability in camping and because they maintain a cheerful spirit in living up to the scout oath and law in their daily lives.

At the present time there are 36 members in the Diablo Valley area. They have elected Jack Weir of Concord their chapter chief.

other deputies have picked up Richardson's campaign literature, delivered it, nailed up political signs, passed out bumper stickers and other things. This has been done on county time, in sheriff's cars — at taxpayers' expense.

George Burton, assistant director of County Civil Defense, has used Sheriff's Department stationery and stamps to distribute a letter in which he attacked Brown.

Writing to defend the communications system of the Sheriff's Department of which he is in charge, Burton charged that Brown has made a political deal to replace the radio system at a cost of about $100,000 to the taxpayers.

Deputies have continued their campaign activity despite the fact that Sheriff Long was asked to remind his men that campaigning is illegal for civic service employees. There is no indication that Long issued the reminder.

Of the other employees of the sheriff's department, a number are for Brown, but these deputies have not campaigned. The reason is that Brown told them at the outset that he didn't want them to break the law.

Because these deputies do not campaign, Richardson supporters have seized upon the fact and charged widely that "all the sheriff's deputies are for Richardson."

They have also said that Brown threatens to fire all deputies who campaign against him if he is elected. They make this statement, although they know, as does Brown, that no civil service employee can be fired outright.

Deputies have also been among the Richardson workers who have been tearing down Brown political signs on a wholesale scale throughout the county.

Last week in Orinda, two deputies — tentatively identified as "Jackson and Dwyer" — were seen tearing down a Brown sign and replacing it with one of Richardson's. They were on duty at the time and this was reported.

Obviously, Richardson signs have also been torn down here and there, probably by Brown workers, but nowhere has it been on the same wholesale scale.

In San Pablo, a large Brown sign was carried off from private property on 13th Street. Two large hillside signs along Franklin Canyon Road were obliterated. Elsewhere Brown signs were smeared with paint, as was reported in The Knave column in The Oakland Tribune.

backing Richardson which is called a "machine" throughout the county and has been known as a "machine" for years, namely the Davi Machine in Pittsburg. This is common knowledge.

Then, there is the fact that for years Richmond City Attorney Tom Carlson and his associates — George Gordon of Martinez, retiring Sheriff James Long and others—have been able to elect to county offices just about any one they choose.

They are backing Richardson. Four years ago Richardson announced his candidacy for sheriff. This newspaper and many people interested in good county law enforcement were enthusiastic supporters of Richardson. Richardson accepted several thousand dollars for his campaign. Then, suddenly he announced he would not run. (He returned the money.)

NEXT, RICHARDSON took a month's vacation from his post as constable. Since then, he has been given two good jobs, which he still holds, — manager of the Richmond Auditorium and civil defense coordinator of the City of Richmond.

In an interview with this paper several months ago, Richardson explained he withdrew from the race after talking with Sheriff Long. Tom Carlson has said that he, too, was instrumental in persuading Richardson to withdraw. Richardson emphatically denies the rumor that he was given $50,000 at that time.

The above information about events of four years ago has been printed in The SUN previous to this edition.

The fact of the matter is that Richardson is backed by almost every political pressure group in the county today.

In contrast, Brown has no organized support, other than the informal, volunteer group which has united to work for his election.

Machine Support For Richardson

Another question citizens have asked is about the people behind Richardson.

Richardson and his supporters have denied that there is any machine in Contra Costa County, that any "machine" is supporting Richardson.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, there is at least one political organization

Jaycees to Hold Barn Dance

A masquerade barn dance will be held next Friday night by the Mt. Diablo Area Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Art Bartolero home in Upper Happy Valley, according to Bob Boyles of Orinda, Jaycee entertainment committee member.

The Bartolero home is ideally suited for large gatherings of this type, Boyles said. At a Jaycee board meeting Monday night, Bartolero was commended for his kind offer.

Attendance will be limited to Jaycees and their guests. A turnout of 50 to 60 couples is expected.

Plans were also discussed at Monday's meeting for a November 15 dinner meeting to which prospective members will be invited. A guest speaker will be announced and football movies will be shown. Theme of the meeting will be the aims and policies of Jaycee work.

Jaycee Course For Firemen

Seven county fire departments have authorized their personnel to take 15-hour courses offered in the Contra Costa Junior College District fire-training program within the next 60 days. The teacher-coordinator is Ward Cockerton.

A grand total of 391,882,155 vehicles had passed over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge as of August 31, 1954.

'Board! Train Ready For Visitors This Weekend

This weekend, through Sunday, the Diablo Valley Lines model railroad will be put on public exhibition. The scale model replica of a real railroad, operated by the 21 members who built both the clubhouse and the layout, is on the east bank of Walnut Creek between Walker Avenue and Capwell's parking lot. It will be open from 7 to 10 this evening and 2 to 10 p. m. tomorrow and Sunday.

An admission charge of 25 cents will be made to adults. Children's tickets can be obtained from a number of stores in Walnut Creek. The railroad club is a non-profit organization and raises the money for construction materials needed to complete the building and layout by charging admission.

The first public show last June brought out more than 1200 people to watch the trains operate. This time the club members look forward to putting on an even better show.

Some 15 freight trains, passenger trains, streamliners, interurban electric cars and work trains are operated These models were built by the individual members of the club and remain their property. Of special interest are the "old timers," several diamond stack, gaily painted, miniature locomotives of 75 years ago. These were built by the junior members of the club and are considered unusually good examples of modelmakers' work.

Club members are incorporated under the name of the Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society. Residing in Concord, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Danville, Lafayette and Orinda, the members contribute several hours work each week on the project. Membership is open to any person who is interested in the hobby. The club is affiliated with the National Model Railroad Association.

Concert Guild to Seek Members

THE SAN FRANCISCO Symphony Orchestra with Enrique Jorda conducting will open the first season of the Contra Costa Concert Guild on December 11. The second program is scheduled for January 10 with a joint recital by Boris Blinder, first cellist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and Dorothy Franklin, gifted young pianist.

On February 21 the Company of the Golden Hind, leading repertory company of San Francisco, will present a comedy, "The Love of Four Colonels."

DESIRE LIGETI, bass-baritone with the New York Opera and the San Francisco Opera, will give a performance on March 21. The final presentation in the series will be the Sergei Temoff Dancers on April 11. Mr. Temoff has been choreographer and ballet-master for the San Francisco Opera and the American Ballet Company.

The series will be presented at the El Campanil Theatre in Antioch. Season memberships are $7 and may be purchased by contacting Mrs. Charles Compton, MU 2-2479, in the Concord area or Mrs. Robert Newell, MUlberry 5-5390, for the Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill area.

Mental Health Unit Bake Sale

Bake for Mental Health! Eat for Mental Health! These seem to be the two slogans of the Central Contra Costa County Mental Health Society as they prepare for their first money raising event—a cake sale to be held at Walnut Creek Safeway store tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Martin Manders, Mrs. H. F. Neller, Mrs. Lloyd Richards and Mrs. Franz Wassermann are organizing the sale. "Trick or Treat"-ing this year promises to be an especially healthy affair at those homes whose homemakers patronize this bake sale.

Gasoline consumption in the United States hit an all-time high during 1953 with an estimated 49,467,100,000 gallons consumed. California led all other states with a mark of 4,874,567,000 gallons and Texas was second with 4,613,630,000 gallons.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

THEY TURNED UP IN DROVES. You would have thought candy bars were being given away, but not so. Instead, the moppets romped to Glorietta School, waving $2.50 in their hands, to sign up for the Saturday morning classes in art and/or "modern and creative dance patterns."

Now when we were a girl and spent hours in front of the mirror draped in scarlet chiffon and a feather off somebody's old hat, emulating Ruth St. Dennis, Ted Shawn and a stable of peacocks (a factual statement — any other local frustrated ballet dancer who was around at the time will remember the Denishawn outdoor dancing pavilion with it's gigantic mirror wall, and the peacocks sauntering all over the place — beautiful and cocky as all get out). Well anyway, in those days dancing lessons were called just that — or "interpretive mood themes" — but now, by golly, it's "dance patterns."

Highly successful judging from the land office business being done by the Orinda Children's Art Center now that they are expanding and taking on regular children as well as talented ones, as had been their premise during the last six years.

The classes are free except for the cost of the materials. The teachers are selected by Mrs. Paul Flick of the California College of Arts and Crafts. The dancing teachers come from Halprin-Lathrop school in San Francisco and they are assisted by mothers who have a native knack for getting the right shoes on the owner's feet when it is time to go home. The current guiding spirits behind this community effort are: president, Mrs. T. M. Harrar; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Gibbs. Board members are: Mesdames George Clifford, Spencer Archer, Edward Merrill Jr., David Wallace, Jack Fraser (who was instrumental in starting the whole thing), G. S. Trumbly, James Lindsay, R. I. Copenhagen, Richard Tharp, William Hagens, Harry Lavagetto, Nathan Dodge and E. J. Unruh. Plus the following sponsors (so far the list from last year would knock your eye out): Mesdames Stanley Allen, Fred Borden, Seaver Ballard, Jack Buckter, Joseph DeMaria, George Eberhardt, E. J. Fowler Jr., Channing Kilburn, J. W. Lamberth, Paul Pollaczek, Stanley Sorem, Robert Raskob, John Ratcliff, Frank Teasdel, John Watson, Miles Sutliffe and Frank Wright.

Ernest Belcher — no fancy ballet master he

AND ONE LAST PARTING SHOT on the subject of the dance. During our chiffon and feather period, we were also insinuated into the dance routines of one tall, slender gentleman with a blond mustache and a Cockney accent, who sailed through the air with the grace of a centaur and the weight displacement of the previously mentioned feather in a dusty little studio in downtown Los Angeles. An "Old School" ballet master with no flair for fancy pants or silk blouses open at the throat.

Instead, he turned out many a premier danseuse while wearing his street trousers rolled up at the ankles (like for wading at the shore) and his necktie slung over the top of the piano. His only costume concession was ballet slippers.

Wonder if he is still on deck today? If so, Ernest Belcher must be very proud, not only of his outstanding choreographic work for the movies, but of his daughter and her hsuband, Marge and Gower Champion.

Yes, as a matter of fact "the dance" played quite a part in our youth. Well do we remember helping Pavlova breathe her last in the famous Swan number from the second row in the balcony. Diaghilev brought Nijinsky to San Francisco to make his historic leap from one end of the Curran to the other, and Theodore Kosloff, having just given up the bright lights for teaching, gazed down with soulful eyes at our pointed toes and muttered something to himself in Russian. We have always wondered what it was.

AND NOW FOR SOME LESS ANCIENT nostalgia, albeit just as intense. Summer is gone according to what we read in the papers. However, during summer's last blast, on the Friday past, which left the area slightly aghast, there was amassed an assortment of linen and silk-clad ladies with their earrings on, who gathered on the patio of Mrs. C. C. Rea to do honor to a cool drink, a delightful luncheon, and a visiting lady from Chicago. Bridge and chatter were the order of the day, with considerable comment on the greenthumb tendencies of Mrs. Rea, who swears she puts Ornu on everything, be it acid, alkaline, or what have you. Her patio was blooming with brilliance and begonias when most gardens look like a dead duck.

Scrounging for flowers in Connecticut

Mrs. James North, of all people, needs a flower pot. Mrs. North, as you may remember, was head mogul for the Orinda Garden Club's exhibit at the California Spring Garden Show this year. Her sister, Mrs. Steadmen of Palo Alto, is a well known ladnscape artist. Mrs. North herself is a gardener par excellence, but she certainly needs a flower pot.

THE NORTHS HAVE MOVED to New Canaan, Conn., house so elegant and contemporary that the windows open when you press a button, and then the screen rush up and attach themselves thereto.

Still no flower pots.

During the recent visit of aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Savale of El Toyonal, the Norths were pleased as clams at high tide to welcome dear ones from Orinda.. But there wasn't one bloom in the house. So Mrs. North dons a parka, high boots, and a rain hat and goes pattering out into the deluge to gather the few dahlias obtainable for house decoration.

The picture of Mrs. North, of such past flower fame, bedraggling along with her meager contribution was almost too much for the Savales, so they scampered all over the house for a camera in order to record the ludicrous sight for prosperity.

From there, the Savales went to New York, where the highlights were: the United Nations Building, "Tea House of The August Moon," "Anniversary Waltz," and "Jack of Hearts." Then Miami and the Everglades, and Hialeah and the pink flamingoes.

THE SOURCE OF THE PREVIOUS information is definitely one who knows. We are going to mention the source from now on because of an episade last week when our source seems to have been a bit too ebullient because of her extreme youth no doubt, and flowed all over the place with information, some not too accurate and some evidently resulting from our custom of putting two and two together and getting six out of it. Consequently, we made a ghastly error and stated a situation in such fasion as to suggest a property ownership instead of a rentalship.

If Mr. Newspaper finds out about it, we shall undoubtedly be canned.

Reassuring results however. Now we know, beyond all question of a doubt, that somebody other than our family and Pat Jelton (who collects the revenue from this column and her "Patter on The Party Line" and turns it over to the Children's Hospital of the East Bay) read our column!

That is all.

Frances Groves Lauded for Operatic Debut in Germany

Miss Frances Groves, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Murray H Groves of Orinda, made her operatic debut in the Stadtheater in Heidelberg, Germany, on September 25. Hers was an alto role in the opera, "Don Pedros Heimkehr" (The Homecoming of Don Pedro) by Mozart, written in the composer's youth and never before produced.

A music critic in a Heidelberg newspaper wrote that when the audience heard Frances' first note, they were surprised and then settled back, relaxed, to lose themselves in the beauty and deep feeling of her voice.

At the end of the production, the cast received numerous ovations. Frances was presented with many bouquets, among them a large one telegraphed her from Berkeley by Dr. Groves. Others were given by her teacher of two years, Mme. Lukascheck of Munich, and by other friends of Munich and Heidelberg. Some of these said that Frances had a quality of voice not equaled by any others of the cast.

Dr. Antonia Brico, old friend and sponsor of Frances, has left Denver, where she conducts the symphony, and was to hear Frances on October 20, after a visit with Albert Schweitzer in Gunbach, France.

Mrs Groves, who has been touring Europe, is now with Frances but expected to accompany Dr. Brico to Brussels, where the latter is to conduct a symphony November 7 on command of the widow of King Albert

Orinda, Berkeley, Stockton, and Chico — where Frances Groves lived, went to college, and studied voice — can well be proud of the fact that among 10 German girls auditioning for a contract with the Heidelberg Opera Company, and in spite of being a foreign contestant (who was not to be selected unless having on "outstandingly superior" voice), Frances won the contract, and by her performance has justified their selection

Orinda Here and There . . .

By ORINDA MOTHERS CLUB NEWCOMERS

New residents in the Dey Rey area are Elizabeth and Sal DeGuarda, recently of Los Angeles, with their two children Greg and Daralyn. Also Cynthia and Richmond Stamply from Pasadena with twin daughters Allison and Sheridan. On Don Gabriel Way are Jean and Don Walker, formerly of Berkeley, with son Stephen and daughter Ann.

SHORT 'N SWEET

Jean and Ralph Kjar have just returned from a short but sweet vacation trip to Los Angeles. Short because the small fry were home with a sitter, and sweet for the same reason. Several stop-overs were enjoyed along the scenic coast route.

PARTY TIME

Darlene Byers was a most surprised guest of honor at a baby shower luncheon given recently by Mid (Mrs. Charles A.) Erickson. A long list of Del Rey neighbors were guests who enjoyed surprising Darlene with some lush unmentionables instead of the usual booties and bibs. This is the third time for the Byers bassinette to be redecorated.

AND ANOTHER

Some ladies are quite reluctant to reveal their age, but Leslie Voegtly was proud to announce that she is all of 6 years old now and did so at a party for a few of her equally aged friends.

A lovely birthday cake and ice cream were served to guests Mark Wulfert, Robert Bardell, Avona Bragg, Janet Ternes and Leslie's brother Robert. A trip to the movies completed the party.

Admiral Nimitz Upholds United Nations' Record

Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz upheld the record of the United Nations at a dinner celebrating the organization's ninth birthday Saturday night in Rancho Grande, Lafayette.

Sponsored by Mt. Diablo Council for the United Nations, the dinner began with an invocation by Brother Roberts of St. Mary's College.

MRS. PAUL GABOURY, chapter president, opened the meeting and was followed by Dick Lommel, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Esther Sharpe, general chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lyon, co-chairmen for UN Week in the county.

Following the singing of the UN Anthem by Mrs. James Perry, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Varner, Admiral Nimitz began his discussion of the UN.

He briefly described its organization, listed the accomplishments of UN in averting violence and dealt with some of the criticisms of the supra-national agency.

"PERSONALLY, I BELIEVE the UN has a record of accomplishments to entitle it to continue its existence," he said. And to his own question, "Is it subversive or is it good?," he answered, "I say it is good."

The program was closed with the singing of the national anthem and dancing followed.

Acalanes High Group Invited To Preview Day

Students representing Acalanes High School have been invited to Preview Day tomorrow on the University of California campus at Davis.

Some 350 visitors from 103 northern and central California high schools and junior colleges are expected to enjoy the Preview Day festivities at Davis this year.

The annual event is being combined with two other big days for Cal Aggie students — Homecoming and the Little International Livestock Show. Preview Day visitors will be guests at the Little "I," and at the Homecoming football game with the University of Nevada, said Chairman Bill Borror of Gerber.

On the program for the high school visitors will be registration from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., a morning assembly at 10:45, afternoon assembly and division by subject interests at 1, campus tours and visit to the Little "I" at 3, and the Homecoming Football game at 8. Meals will be the only expense to the attending students.

At the afternoon session each visitor will pick out one or two major subjects in which he is interested. Each group will visit the department in which it is interested, meet members of the faculty, and discuss the training offered.

Invitations have gone out to 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America groups as well as high schools and junior colleges in the 24 counties within a 100-mile radius of Davis.

Acalanes Seniors Hear Legislators

State Senator George Miller and Assemblyman Donald Doyle this week briefed Acalanes senior problems students on the workings of California state government.

In a non-partisan presentation, both legislators described the activities of lawmakers at Sacramento, the problems of highway safety and development, cross filing, voting privileges for 18-year-olds, terms of office for legislators, legislator's salaries and other areas of concern to state govenrment.

Both legislators discussed the local highway problem, pointing out that the proposed highway system improvement from Orinda to the Monument would cost more than thirty million dollars, the bulk of the revenue to come from gasoline taxes.

Senator Miller explained his stand on allowing 18-year-olds the right to vote, stating that he will try again this year to "get it through." The senator pointed out that the 18-year-old voting privilege is now endorsed by both parties.

Both legislators presented their party's views on cross filing. The two lawmakers spoke to three Acalanes senior problem classes.

Students in the Don senior problems classes have previously heard Sgt. Robert Brown of the Oakland Police Department describe the problems and dangers inherent in narcotic addiction; Richard E. Nichols, resident agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, discuss FBI activities; and Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren describe the role and problems of California Penal Institutions.

Senior problems students will also study family relationship problems, international questions facing the United States, the role of the United Nations, problems in education in California, national and state domestic issues, vocations and other areas of interest to young people about to enter the everyday adult world.

Tests Measure Acalanes High Student Learning

The entire Acalanes High School enrollment this week measured their academic achievement in a series of tests designed to profile student strong and weak points in basic areas of learning.

Don freshmen and sophomores took the California Achievement Test Battery which probes student achievement in reading, English, and arithmetic. Acalanes juniors and seniors wresteled with the Essential High School Contest Test, which measures achievement in social studies, English, math and science.

The tests are used by counselors and teachers evaluating student academic achievement. The tests also indicate the success of the overall education program of the school.

Test results will be available to students and parents within a few weeks, as soon as they have been scored and the academic achievement profile of each student has been plotted.

Testing was directed by the Don counseling department, William Rose, head counselor.

Achievement tests are conducted every two years, enabling counselors and teachers to analyze student achievement twice during each student's high school career.

Acalanes Pupils See 'Rigoletto'

Thirty-eight Acalanes students attended the matinee performance of "Rigoletto" this week at the San Francisco Opera House.

Attendance of students at the matinee performance is a co-operative effort between the schools and the opera company to provied students with an opportunity to appreciate fine music.

Approach all curves with caution, advises the National Automobile Club.

EAST BAY PRODUCERS' MILK COUNCIL

New Librarian Takes Over Duties

Mrs. Elizabeth Lieberman assumed duties this week as the new Orinda librarian, following the retirement of Mrs. Josephine Dawson. Mrs. Bertha Hellum, county librarian, announced the appointment of Mrs. Lieberman, who recently passed civil service requirements.

The new librarian is taking over just as the Orinda Library begins its new schedule of hours, which are now 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to noon Saturday mornings.

"I first became seriously interested in library work last year while working as an Orinda Mothers Club volunteer in the Orinda School library," Mrs. Lieberman reports.

The new librarian graduated in journalism from the University of Illinois. In Chicago she was associate editor of the magazine, Advertising Age.

The Liebermans have lived in the Bay Area for seven years. While in San Francisco, her husband, J. B. Lieberman, was on the staff of the Chronicle. He is now teacher's coordinator of the Contra Costa Junior College District.

The Liebermans now reside on Lombardy Lane, Orinda, with their two children, aged 9 and 11, one cat and five new kittens. Combining their journalistic talents, the Liebermans operate a home printing press for their own enjoyment.

Mrs. Lieberman lists her other interests as knitting, gardening, Brownies and Sunday school teaching.

After eating heartily, the boys played football and finally adjourned to Orinda Park Pool to cool off after their strenuous game.

JANET LUCAS

Happy birthday to Greg Holm, who celebrated his eighth birthday September 11 with a bang-up party at his new home on La Espiral.

Gilbert, took Pete Yedidia, Barry Howard, Randy Thaman, Steve Beckett, Gary Center, Tommy Kirby and son Jack to the Seals'Stadium in San Francisco to see the Oaks-Seals game.

While the boys are all enthusiastic baseball fans, it was a close contests between the game and the hot dogs.

THE FIRST BLOOM OF a 25-year-old century plant is being admired by Robert, George and Joan Bauslaugh. Standing on a bank at the intersection of Charles Hill Road and Charles Hill Circle, the plant was transplanted to its present location some 14 years ago by John H. Christie, whose home it beautifies. The plant itself will die now, but it has provided new shoots which will bloom in perhaps another 25 years.

Orinda Library to Be Open More Hours

Announcement is made by County Librarian Bertha Hellum that the Orinda Public Library, located in the Orinda Community Church building, is now open additional hours.

Since last Monday, the library is now open Monday through Friday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m., and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Addition of hours was necessitated by the growing circulation of books and changes the status of the Orinda Library from a deposit station to a branch library in the Contra Costa County Library system, Mrs. Hellum explained.

With the advent of the new schedule, Mrs. Elizabeth Lieberman of Lombardy Lane assumes her duties as full-time librarian.

Mrs. Lieberman replaces Mrs. Josephine Dawson, who is retiring after many years as Orinda librarian.

Mrs. Lieberman recently qualified for the position by completing the civil service examinations given in Martinez. She has assisted Mrs. Dawson on a voluntary basis in the past and has also contributed her services to the school library.

Brother Succumbs

Peter Stanton Hales, 25, brother of Mrs. Edward de Laveaga, of Orinda, was found dead in his Berkeley room October 12.

Hales, a senior student in English at the University of California, collapsed and died while studying at his desk in a rented room at 32 Bret Harte Road, according to his landlady, Mrs. Mabel Hayward.

Mrs. de Laveaga said her brother had never been seriously ill before. "He came out of the Army in perfect physical condition just a short time ago, and since that time was active, healthy and cheerful," she said.

Hales was the son of Raleigh Stanton Hales of Pasadena and San Marino.

The Brownies in Troop 214 are Brenda Trounce, Carol Courant, Christine Block, Clarinda Telfer, Ginny Phair, Kathleen Bergeson, Laurie Gale Christie, Lorna Wallace, Marcie Ray, Marsha Mjolsnes, Milo Anne Hecathorn, Susan Hickcox, Susan Rochester, Tony Brothers, Valerie Renwick, Vicky Schacht and the new girl in the troop, Carol Thompson.

Girls of Troop 2 of the Orinda Brownies September 30 visited the plant of The SUN in Lafayette and witnessed the production of a recent issue.

The girls all attend the Glorietta School in Orinda. They were impressed with the intricate printing presses, linotype operations, and other methods used in the newspaper plant.

Mrs. Doris Fernsten and Mrs. Una Walstrom, both of Orinda, supervised the visit. Miss Pollard of The SUN showed the visiting group through the newspaper establishment.

Girls in the group were: Susan Bonds, Nancy Brailsford, Jan Currier, Susan Fernsten, Wendy Minor, Carol Nelson, Janice Schneider, Roxie Smith, Christina Walstrom, Kay Williams, Julie Winkworth and Sandy Buehler.

Guild Hears Of Eastern Journey

Section One of the Women's Guild of Orinda Community Church met October 12 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Hafner.

After a dessert served by the hostess assisted by co-hostess Mrs. E. H. Fisher, the meeting was opened by Chairman Mrs. G. Chester Brown.

An inspirational reading was given by Mrs. Gordon Tinkham for the devotions. The program which followed was by Mrs. Fisher who showed pictures taken by her daughter Leatrice when on her educational tour of part of the Orient.

The tour was under Professor Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Davis of San Francisco College. Sixteen students left on the S.S. Cleveland June 20. They stopped at the Hawaiian Islands, then went to Manila Bay. On tours in the Philippines they saw water buffalo being worked in the rice fields, quantities of drying coconuts and most brilliant sunsets. In Hong Kong the pictures showed pagodas, fields of red cannas and terraced rice paddies.

In Japan the group was shown Hiroshima, Yokohama and Kobe, besides numbers of smaller towns. Among the many things seen were gardens of water lilies, women pearl divers and cormorants being used by the natives in catching fish.

They also had the rare privilege of seeing Mt. Fujiyama when its top was not shrouded in clouds. On their return trip the group stayed a few days at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel in Honolulu.

Leatrice brought back with her a number of beautiful silk prints, scarves and embroidered pieces which were shown.

Laymen will "take over" the sermon period Sunday morning when the congregation of the Orinda Community Church gathers for the customary 11 a.m. public worship service in observance of "World Order Day," which is nationwide and inter-denominational. Conducting this service, as well as the earlier 9:30 chapel worship, will be the Rev. Fred R. Morrow, minister of the church.

Children and young people are provided for in a full program of religious instruction at 9:30 a.m., and an adult discussion follows the half hour chapel period. There is repetition of classes at the church hour for children below the fourth grade.

At 5:30 and 6:45 p.m., Ray L. Welles, who directs the church's youth activities, counsels with junior high and high school age fellowships in a program of recreation, worship and group discussion.

By means of sketches and drawings, Fey makes his lectures interesting and meaningful to adults and children

"Why Think Ye Evil In Your Heart" is the sermon topic for the 8 and 11 a.m. services by the pastor, the Rev. Edward R. Andersen.

The congregation and people of the community should begin pointing their attention toward, November 14, first anniversary, of the organization of the Lutheran congregation here, said Robert McClanahan chairman of the Loyalty Committee and vice-president of the congregation.

A series of letters, followed by three discussion meetings, will precede Loyalty Sunday.

TV, Radio, Sports Stars to Present Shows in Big Tent

TV, radio and sports stars are highlighting the gala opening this weekend of Clark's Market at Moraga Center, newest contribution to Contra Costa County's tremendous growth. Scene of the star parade is the big top next to the new building.

The Zee Bandwagon, featuring Harry Curzi and his popular band, opened the show under the canvas last night.

The Hoffman Hayride, a two hour event, was also last night. The Hayride features such stars as Cottonseed Clark, Patty Pritchard, "Big Jim" DeNoon and Marilyn Orlando.

TEN PLAYERS OF the San Francisco 49ers will appear on stage tonight at 7 p.m. The stars are Y. A. Tittle, Leo Nomellini, Nick Feher, Joe Perry, John Henry Johnson, Billy Wilson, Bob St. Claire, Jim Cason, Hugh McElhenny and Gordy Soltau.

They will be followed by a special one-hour wrestling match beginning at 8 o'clock, in which the famed Sharpe Brothers, Ben and Mike, will get rough and tough with two leading Bay Area wrestlers. A regulation ring will be used for the match, a two out of three fall event. Everyone is urged to see "540 pounds of wrestling dynamite."

Tomorrow's shows in the big top will feature Ko Ko The Clown and Lu Lu Belle, a 260-pound bear from the Himalayas.

KO KO WILL BE on stage from 11 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 3 p.m. He will greet his youthful fans and interested adults after each of his appearances. He appears through the courtesy of Gold Seal Products.

Lu Lu Belle, world famous Wonder Bear, will dance for the audience at 2 p.m., then make his own inimitable shopping tour of Clark's Market.

The three days of star-studded shows will include the presentation of many free prizes, favors, food and fun.

Big Top Tent Offers Food, Prizes, Balloons, Orchids

Come one, come all — to the Big Top!

There will be more than a galaxy of stars of TV, radio and the sports world to greet kids and their parents!

The big top, (a real tent erected next to Clark's Market) will display numerous free prizes being offered. A miniature 110-pound Welsh horse, complete with saddle and bridle, is perhaps the most intriguing prize.

AMONG OTHER FREE awards, which will especially attract the oldsters, are two Necchi sewing machines, barbecue sets, hundreds of household and garden items and numerous appliances. No purchase is necessary for the tickets. Drawings will be held through Saturday.

Then, there will be ice cream and balloons for the kids and orchids for the ladies Friday and Saturday.

The Big Tent will also provide numerous tasty samples of the many foods served by demonstrators.

ON TOP OF ALL THIS will be a week of special prices for those patronizing the store during its opening period. The sales items will be featured through next Thursday.

Clark's Market is probably the most complete of California's newest supermarkets — a convenient combination of meat, grocery, liquor, fountain, produce and frozen food departments.

An extensive refrigeration system for all fruits, vegetables, meat and poultry assures the utmost freshness of these items.

New Market Is Second Store For the Clarks

Clark's Market, the first completed building of the Moraga Center Shopping Center, is the second business venture for Grocerymen Chet and Jack Clark.

Eight years ago they opened the grocery and produce departments of Black's Market at Orinda. Black's is one of the most successful markets in the Bay area.

Much of the brothers' success is due to the fact they work as a team and do much of the "ground level" work. Chet still goes to the early morning wholesale markets in Oakland and San Francisco. Jack, in addition to his planning, buying and executive duties, is not too busy to take his turn at the check stands or to carry packages to cars — when the occasion demands.

BOB SCHWEDHELM

Their policy of "personalized service has paid off. Both of the Clarks and their families reside in Orinda. (Most staff members live in Central Contra Costa County).

Their interest in the grocery business stems from their father who was one of the pioneer builders of the Safeway Stores in the Rocky Mountain states.

Formerly of Black's, Bob Schwedhelm will be the store manager at Clark's and Armand Boscacci will be produce manager.

Both have had many years experience in the food business and have a host of friends in the area. A courteous, well-trained staff has been working for weeks to prepare the new store.

Tony, Vasco Install $30,000 Meat Department at Clark's

One of the largest meat departments in Northern California will be available for shoppers at the newly opened Clark's Market at the Moraga Shopping Center.

"We have a complete line of delicatessen foods and canned hams as one of our main features," says Tony Fereira, and Vasco Giannini, co-owners of "Moraga Choice Meats" at Clark's and "T. and V. Choice Meats" at Black's in Orinda.

ALSO FEATURED is a complete line of poultry and fresh fish, as well as good and choice grade meats, personally selected by Tony and Vasco, as hundreds of their friends and customers know them.

Heading the department at Clark's is Vasco Giannini. About twelve experienced butchers will staff the department at Clark's, as compared with the eight now handling the business at Black's.

"An innovation among the $30,000 worth of equipment and refrigeration which have gone into the meat department is the special 'Pasturay' lighting system in the refrigeration units. The Pasturay kills bacteria and helps age the meat.

FEREIRA WILL do the buying for the meat departments at Black's and Clark's. Tony and Vasco are well known for their personalized service and excellent quality of their meats. Instead of following the trend toward self-service their markets emphasize special-service. Customers are urged to discuss their menu details, and meat is cut to the desire of the purchaser.

During the opening event, delicious hot dogs will be served.

T and D Liquor Department Features New Gift Section

Gift items and bar accessories are added attractions in the "T. and D." liquor department at the new Clark's Market.

Jim Tosteson and Leighton DeMaeyer, co-owners of the department, have installed the gift section as a permanent feature, not only for Christmas but year-around giving.

JIM TOSTESON LEIGHTON DeMAEYER

FRANK KERRIGAN

Frank W. Kerrigan is manager of the department at Clark's. The new section displays one of the most complete liquor lines in the area. It is about twice the size of Tosteson - DeMaeyer's department at Black's in Orinda.

Beers, mix, a complete line of champagnes, imported liquers, brandies, table wines and rums are offered. Although there is no delicatessen included in the department, hors d'oeuvres include cocktail tamales and franks and other items.

The department has been named T. and D. Liquors — signifying Tosteson and DeMaeyer, of course.

Clark's Is First Store of 100-Acre Moraga Center

The opening of Clark's Market marks the first milestone in the development of the Moraga Shopping Center, which in time, will cover 100 acres, according to Donald L. Rheem, owner and developer.

In addition to the shopping center, Rheem owns extensive adjoining acreage upon which some homes have already been built, but with the major development yet to come.

A RESIDENT of Moraga, Rheem has been responsible for large business development in Orinda. He is one of the nation's leading idustrialists.

"Clark's is the kick-off of a larger, over-all plan," he said.

The bright, new supermarket which dominates the fields just north of Moraga is part of a story which began in 1935.

In that year, Rheem moved over the mountains from Piedmont for the sunnier living of the Orinda-Moraga area.

"THERE WERE JUST hay fields when I first came out here," he recalls.

The construction of the Orinda Theater in 1941 was the beginning of Rheem's plans for a well-constructed, attractive business center at Orinda Crossroads. Fred Wood and Paul Vashell contributed to the Crossroads' development with their pioneering.

In 1947, Rheem built the American Trust building and adjoining stores. Then, in 1949 and 1950 the Orinda Post Office and more stores were erected, as were the building on Moraga Highway (Sprouse-Reitz and Orinda Hardware) and another building housing four smaller stores on Brookwood Road.

Among the contractors who have made Clarks' a reality are: heating and sheet metal work, Aladdin Heating Corporation of San Leandro; roofing, Alta Roofing Company of San Francisco; glass, Cobbledick-Kibbe Glass Company of Oakland; acoustical tile ceiling, Cramer Acoustics of San Francisco; concrete work, H. W. Gentry Company of Walnut Creek; structural steel, Gilmore Fabricators Inc. of Oakland.

SPRINKLING SYSTEM, Grinnel Company of the Pacific, San Francisco; plumbing, Morrill Plumbing Company of Berkeley; lath plastering, Norman F. Oxford of Concord; painting, Pacific Painting and Decorating of Berkeley; masonry, Coletta and Stewart of San Leandro; terra cotta building tile, Gladding McBean of San Francisco; iron work, Elvin Iron Works of San Francisco; reinforcing steel, Soule Steel Company of San Francisco; asphalt tile, West Coast Linoleum and Carpet Company of San Francisco.

Electrical, Crockett Electric Company; "electrical ceiling," Commercial Lighting and Fixture Company of Sacramento. Morris Refrigeration Company supplied all the refrigeration cases, walk-in boxes, check stands, fountain and equipment, fixtures for liquor department, gondolas for grocery department — and installed it all.

The Stanley Hardware Company of San Francisco supplied and installed the automatic doors. Donald Rheem did the grading and excavating, RCA furnished the Voycall System, and the Electrical Products Company designed and installed the neon signs.

Reporter Is Dazzled by Unusual Features

A SUN reporter toured Clark's Market yesterday and this is what he saw:

What a welcome! The double-plate glass doors at the front entrance swing open automatically when you step on a metal plate over an air pressure device.

Once inside you realize that you are seeing one of the largest and most modern markets in Northern California. Rows of the very newest display equipment stocked high with merchandise greet your eyes. Friendly staff members pass and say hello.

You are impressed by the careful planning — aisles are a comfortable width, color and light are just right, everything is spic and span.

You view a 20,000 square-foot area which includes a fountain, meat, liquor, grocery and produce departments. Fluorescent lighting and an acoustical fibreglass paneled ceiling provide an "electrical ceiling."

IN A FRONT CORNER of the store is the "Kiddie Korral," a special lounge for mothers and their children. It is attractively decorated with a vari-colored checkerboard wall which includes in its pattern figures of animals and clowns.

Solid, pastel colors, different for each section of the store, give the whole wall unusual treatment. At the rear of the building are extensive warehouse areas and a balcony for the offices.

The quarter-million dollar building, in which Chet and Jack Clark have combined the best features of a self-service operation and a service-type store, features an excellent selection of seasonal fruits and vegetables, and a vast assortment of frozen foods.

Clark's presents a tremendous selection of quality brand groceries at "continuously low" prices.

IMPORTANT FEATURE is the fact that all fruits and vegetables are sold directly to the customer from refrigerated cases, which take up about 70 lineal feet in the store.

Patrons will be able to buy seasonal house and garden plants and a wide assortment of flower and vegetable seeds.

Walking outside, you see a well-constructed building most modern in appearance — a sea green, concrete, tilt-up construction which has a large tile (terra cotta) front and brick trim below all the large plate glass windows.

A covered walk runs the length of one side of the building, and the store front is recessed with an overhang for maximum protection against the sun.

You are equally pleased with the surfaced parking areas — with room for many cars, yours and at least 699 others.

It's Convenient For Motorists

No matter how you look at it, Clark's Market is within easy driving distance and quite accessible.

Centrally located for the convenience of central Contra Costa County shoppers, the new shopping hub at Moraga Center is located at the intersection of Rheem Boulevard and Jonas Hill Road.

What's the driving distance?

Well, from the Lafayette Post Office to Clark's it's about 2-8/10 miles. Those driving from Moraga will travel 1 9/10 miles. And from Orinda Crossroads it's approximately 4 8/10 miles.

And from Walnut Creek it's a pleasant drive from Pleasant Hill Cutoff, down Reliez Station Road.

Hungry? Thirsty? Step Up to Ray Runckel's New Fountain

Clark's is the only food market in the entire area that features a fountain for drinks and sandwiches for its customers.

Managing the fountain is Ray Runckel of Lafayette, who says the fountain will be able to accommodate 27 persons at a time.

The fountain, located next to the Kiddie Korral, includes 17 stools and three booths. Runckel, formerly a salesman for Best Foods Mayonnaise Company in Oakland, said about four people will be used to staff the fountain at various times.

RAY RUNCKEL

Sandwiches are now served and in time hot plate lunches will be placed on the menu, he said.

Milk shakes and hamburgers selling at 25 cents each are special features through next Thursday.

Parking Area Handles 700 Cars

A paved parking area capable of handling about 700 automobiles will be found at the new Clark's Market at Moraga Center.

The 200,000-square-foot parking areas, black-topped in time for the opening of the store, are located around the modern, one-story building.

Plans call for the extension of the parking area, which is reported to be larger than those of all other shopping centers in Northern California.

S.F. 49-ers Will Make Appearance

Sports fans will have a field day at Clark's during the opening celebration.

Nowhere outside of Kezar Stadium can you see all the San Francisco 49-ers that will be in the Big Tent at 7 p.m. tonight. The gridders will be led by the one and only — Y. A. Tittle.

Clown, Bear Will Perform Saturday

Tomorrow's shows at Clark's in the Big Tent will be of super-special interest to the children.

And what could be better than a clown? So Ko-Ko the Clown takes the stage from 11 to 12 and 2 to 3. Afterwards he will visit with the kids.

And they'll love Lu-Lu Belle, the 260-pound acting and dancing Himalayan Bear. She'll perform at 2 and then will show how Clark's should be shopped.

BUT EVERY OPENING day of opening is Kids Day, for ice cream cones and baloons will be presented to them. And they — and you — will have great fun sampling the many foods to be given away.

Everyone is urged to empty his piggy bank and try his luck at tossing pennies in the saucers. Shirley Gee will be in charge of this game.

At the "Make Up" booth, Kathy Terry and her assistants will make you into a pirate, glamour girl, a pickle puss, or a cowboy.

THERE WILL BE PORTRAITS of several leading members of Bethel to be used as targets for the dart game. Carol Moss will furnish you with darts.

No carnival would be complete without a place to have your picture taken against a "screwy" background. These will have to be seen to be appreciated. Joan Hogue is in charge of this part of the fair.

Ann Sonntag, general chairman, urges, all to save the date, November 6. Admission is free and everyone is invited.

Honoring Miss Florence Quartararo, soprano star of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera companies, committee members and their guests entertained at a luncheon at Luigi's in Oakland recently. Among them were several Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and Lafayette residents.

Miss Quartararo, who returned in June after three years in Italy, will appear in concert at the Berkeley Community Theater on November 19 in her only East Bay appearance. After her present tour in the United States, she will return to Italy to fill already scheduled opera and concert engagements.

Among those who attended the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Gavotto and Mrs. George Johnston, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. Arthur Best of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Charles Pia of Lafayette; Ugo Graziotti, professor of anatomy at the California College of Arts and Crafts; Bill Guyman, radio and TV announcer; Luigi Cabiale, restauranteur; Lee Searight, promotion and advertising executive of Breuner's; Mesdames Luigi Picirillo, Aldo Jaccuzzi and Salvatore Cleri, all of Berkeley; Mrs. Angelo Conte and Jack Pisani, uncle of the honoree.

Around Acalanes

By DIANE HILLYARD

THIS LAST WEEK was really a goodie, what with the whole student body taking achievement tests on Tuesday, and most of the biology students going on a field trip Wednesday.

Achievement tests were given to ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelth graders to see what they knew. (There is no need for a comment here).

Biology students who have been extremely busy executing bugs, had a bigger and better chance to add to the death toll of the insect clan as they were taken on a field trip for this purpose. Don't get the wrong idea though — killing them was only to give the kiddies a better chance to study the various forms of insect life.

Anyone who hadn't visited our fair school recently would, no doubt, be flabbergasted (some word) at the many changes and improvements being made.

SOMEBODY MUST HAVE gotten very ambitious with a paint can this summer, as Senior Hall, all the bleachers, the boys' gym, and all classrooms from 202 to 207 were repainted. (Wot hoppened to the girls' gym?)

We can no longer identify our old desks by the initials carved in them, because these have been repaired and refinished, and we must work to open lockers because they are no longer "set."

Pandora Members Tell of Happy Vacation Rambles

Members of Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society in Orinda greeted one another enthusiastically after summer vacations as they held their first fall meeting at the lovely home of Mrs. William Van Daff in Sleepy Hollow recently.

Many families felt the urge to trek to the high Sierra for fishing, camping and other back to nature activities. Among them were Messrs. and Mesdames Glen Smith, Alfred Johnson and son, Bob, Rees Paine and daughter, Susan, George Hemminger and son, George, Roy Beckett with Steven and R. J., Theodore Sanford and family, Edward Walsh and two children, Robert Barton, Earl Hotaling and daughter and Irving Grundel.

SOUTHERN EXPOSURES as far down as Ensenada, Mexico for deep sea fishing called other members including Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth St. Clair, Nancy and Keith; Mr. and Mrs. Ridgley Greathouse; Mrs. Harold Anderson and daughter Patty and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dozier.

From one extreme to the other: the scenic route along the Redwood Highway to the north found other families enjoying a change of scene. Mrs. William Houston had a flying trip to Olympia, Washington for a family reunion; while Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart Cooke and son John and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pedder and daughter Salley went as far north as Victoria and Harrison Hot Springs in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mulvany spent a month in and around the Seattle-Portland area, while Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gease were enjoying Crater Lake and Oregon, and the Van Daff family spent their time at a ranch in the Trinity Alps in Shasta National Forest.

Mistletoe Magic Tickets Are Still Available

Tickets are still available for Mistletoe Magic, though reservations have been flowing in, Mrs. J. Wayland Barnette announced at a recent meeting of Heidi Chapter of Children's Home Society.

The benefit affair will be held November 17 at Castlewood Country Club. It will feature the clothes of Jobert Thane and Richard Ingersoll, both prominent Bay Area designers.

Musical background will be supplied by a quintette under the direction of Arthur Schwarzman and vocal selections will be offered by Ronald Dutro, well known baritone who has appeared in opera, concert, radio and television.

Proceeds from the party will go to benefit Children's Home Society, oldest state wide adoption agency, which last year placed 408 children. Those interested in securing tickets may reserve them by calling Mrs. Barnette.

Plans are also being made for a Christmas party for the unit to which members bring their children. A special entertainment program for youngsters is planned.

To be held December 14 in Alamo Women's Club, the party is under the guidance of Mrs. Wiley House, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Stievater.

'Hustle Bustle' Will Feature Zany Hats on Lady Golfers

An annual event not to be missed is the "Hustle Bustle," novel golf event to be held next Friday at the Orinda Country Club for all lady golfers. It's open to club members only, "duffers" and "champions" alike.

Following a breakfast at the club, the women will tee off between 9 and 9:30 a.m. in the "zany" golf play. Directed by Mrs. King Wilkin and Mrs. Robert Diehl, the affair promises to more than match all such previous events.

The ladies will wear head-dresses depicting in color, literature, art, music or the cinema. Prizes will be awarded to the wearers of the most original, clever and zaniest. Assisting in the judging will be Mrs. George Pacini, Mrs. James Duffy and Herman Silverman.

Eleven holes will be played, with each presenting some hazard not usually found in a normal round of golf. Naturally, the committee refuses to divulge what obstacles may beset the participants this year, but past years have revealed invisible hairpins around the hole, or perhaps a bird cage with the door open to sink the putt.

Then too, one may find an ice cream cone instead of a tee, or even a 12-inch length of rubber hose on which to set the golf ball.

Jewish Center Was Formerly Site of Popular Night Spot

By HILDA WISEMAN

Contra Costa Jewish Community Center will hold open house and dedication ceremonies November 9 at its newly converted building in an attractive hill setting along Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

The building was formerly Planter's Dock, a replica of a South Sea Island traders' general store. It was a nationally famous eating and drinking establishment and a popular night spot.

The story of this building is fascinating because the structure's "character" is as vivid as if it had stepped out of the pages of a Jack London book.

PLANTER'S DOCK, whose fortune was made on the Estuary at the end of Broadway in Oakland, left the seagulls and rolling fog banks for the sun-kissed hills of Lafayette.

There, despite its popularity, it failed.

When it became known that Planter's Dock was to be auctioned, the leaders of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center made their bid and were able to purchase 14 acres of land and the building for $53,000.

THUS Planter's Dock became the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

People wandering up the hill are surprised.

The mysterious Easter Island pagan idols are gone. They were disposed of in a more practical manner than did the prophet Abraham in Biblical times.

Two were sold at auction for $25 each.

THE LANAI WAS divided into religious classrooms, the mandarin room is a classroom, the checkroom a library.

By removing the walls of the bar, dining room and kitchen, a chapel was formed to accommodate a congregation of 350 people.

The kitchen, now 14 by 27 feet, was relocated. Members can really enjoy washing dishes as they view the surrounding hills. The kitchen has two sinks, two electric stoves, a refrigerator, a butcher block, a coffee urn table and sliding door cabinets, accessible from either the kitchen or dining area.

THE UPPER FLOOR has 6500 square feet of floor space.

The lower floor has 5000 square feet, unusable at present except for storage. It will eventually be partitioned into four additional classrooms and an all-purpose room.

HIGH HOLIDAY services were held here. Sunday School classes are held weekly, and regular religious services on a Friday night once a month.

Before the Center was founded, two years ago, people of Jewish faith in this area had to travel through the Tunnel, and in some instances, across the bridge, to attend religious worship.

The Center group has no professional leadership, no rabbi, no affiliation with any national organization. At present the membership is composed of 120 families. Every function finds a member with talent and the willingness to give.

FRED KATZBURG has assumed the responsibilities of Sunday School principal and, when necessary, conducts services.

Harriet Daneiko, coloratura soprano, organized and conducts the choir.

Ellen Kroff, composer and concert pianist, is the accompanist.

INCLUDED IN THE many planned social and recreational activities are those for adults and the teen age group.

When the building is completely converted for indoor activities, future plans for outdoors will include a new front for the building, landscaping, picnic grounds, swimming pool and playgrounds.

A cooperative children's day nursery and summer day camp are also probabilities.

MUCH TIME and work were contributed to the project.

In January, 1952, Mrs. Robert Robinson, first president of the League of Jewish Women, appointed Art Weisberg chairman of the committee of husbands to investigate possibilities of a Center building. This committee evolved into the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, of which Harry Schwartz was the first president.

For the past two years David Zuckerman has been president.

THE LEAGUE of Jewish Women has raised considerable money for the building fund. It has contributed $7000 from its many enterprises and has donated a piano, chairs, dishes and silver.

Through its president, Mrs. Harold Bloom, it is called upon to cooperate with Isadore Perlman, building chairman.

There have been scrubbing and painting teams, sewing circles for curtains and draperies.

ST. PAUL'S Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek and Lafayette Community Methodist Church demonstrated the spirit of brotherhood by generously offering their facilities when their Jewish neighbors had no place to hold Sabbath services.

Jewish Sunday School classes were originally held in Lafayette Town Hall.

Zuckermon points out that it is the policy of the Jewish Community Center board to offer the building to other religious groups when it is available.

Vision Studies on School Children Enter New Phase

Parents of Orinda's school children will be interested to know of the progress of the vision study being conducted by the Orinda School District and the Contra Costa County Health Department, together with the Stanford Medical School and the University of California School of Optometry.

The testing program is almost complete, with a few children yet to be seen at Stanford and the University of California. This program, one of the most ambitious vision testing programs ever undertaken in California, started in March, 1954, and has been going on continuously since that time. Fifteen hundred students in grades one through six have been tested.

THE TESTS were given by teachers, nurses, optometrists and opthalmologists and included many different types of tests in common use throughout the nation and a special technique developed for this study.

The study of the vision problems of school children has been a subject of considerable importance in recent years. State law requires that adequate vision tests be given to all students, but available tests have not been properly evaluated nor entirely satisfactory.

This study, undertaken jointly by the Orinda School District, the County Board of Education, the County Health Department, the University of California School of Optometry and the Stanford School of Ophthalmology, was specifically designed to determine the best methods for vision testing in schools.

SOME OF THE school screening techniques investigated gave results indicating care was needed, when in fact the child did not need care, as verified by the optometrists and opthalmologists examinations. Others who needed care were missed entirely by these school screening techniques.

It was necessary to follow all these children through a large number of tests and professional examinations to properly evaluate the various procedures. Special control groups were established and, while much apparently unnecessary testing was done, this was imperative to make the study valid. The results are expected to contribute greatly to the efficient operation of this school health program in the future.

The research is now entering second phase: tabulating and statistical analysis. This highly technical and time consuming procedure is now underway using new techniques devised for this study.

It is estimated that the tabulation of this mass of valuable information will take from two to three months, according to Dr. Henry Peters of the University of California School of Optometry, who is supervising this phase of the program.

DR. HENRIK BLUM, Contra Costa County health officer, has been particularly pleased with the splendid support and cooperation of the Orinda Mothers Club and the parents of the children involved.

"Without the considerable time and effort given by the mothers in arranging appointments and transportation, this study could not have been completed," stated Dr. Blum. "They have earned the thanks of the entire community."

Mrs. Ernest Starkman, health chairman for the Orinda Mothers Club for the 1953-54 period, and Mrs. William L. Kooreman, health chairman for the present year, should receive particular thanks for their diligent work.

MRS. STARKMAN'S committee, consisting of the Mesdames William Witter, Barton Van Sickle, Norman Ketsdever, Bruce Howard, Bert Moore, Thomas Connolly and A. D. Henry, have all contributed much time and effort to this program.

Also, approximately 50 mothers have helped with the various phases of these examinations.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

Water Committee Hears of Costs

The district's potential and a "logical" service area rather than a "who wants in or out" basis will be used to draw boundaries by Citizens Committee for Water Supply now seeking to annex an area from Walnut Creek to Danville to East Bay Municipal Utilities District.

Meeting recently in Alamo School, committee members heard that cost estimates involved in the proposed annexation will be submitted in a session tentatively scheduled for November 15.

However, Chairman Howard Foulds of the boundaries committee said that some areas will require special consideration, such as a tract which has its own distribution facilities and buys water at a wholesale rate.

Most of the area is currently being served by California Water Service which is cooperating with EBMUD engineers in making information on their facilities available.

Finance Committee Chairman Ralph C. Smith has said the proposed annexation seems feasible on the basis of assessed valuation encompassed by the area under consideration.

Much of the oil disappearance on the long trip when the car is traveling at high speed is the result of leakage rather than aeration or burning points out the National Automobile Club. Before starting on such a trip, and at other times as well, it pays to have the various gaskets designed to prevent lubrication loss either tightened or replaced. Thin oil can find many ways of escape.

Christian Science

That purification of thought and action removes the obstacles of individual growth, progress and salvation will be emphasized at services this Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" is the Golden Text from James (1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that live him."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: (492:7-12):

"Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light."

From the Bible the following selections will be read (Phillippians 3:13, 14):

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Bacca, Merrill Win Awards in Ford Contest

Dennis Bacca, Pleasant Hill High School sophomore, was third place winner in a nation-wide industrial arts contest sponsored by the Ford Motor Company, it was announced recently by Steve Casaleggio, metal shop instructor.

Bacca's prize, a special certificate and a check for $65 arrived last week.

Also winning an award was Roger Merrill, P.H. junior, who received a gold medal and a certificate. Bacca's entry in the competition was a four-piece wrought iron fireplace set. Merrill entered a table lamp in the contest.

The importance of the prize won by Bacca is shown by the fact that only three such prizes were given to students in the State of California, it was pointed out by Casaleggio.

His prize-winning entry is now on exhibition at the Ford Museum in Dearborn, Michigan, where it will remain until October. After that, it will be returned to Pleasant Hill High School, where it will be put on display.

Diablo JC's Spur Membership Drive

The Mt. Diablo Area Junior Chamber of Commerce announces a membership drive, according to Ed Bjornestad, membership chairman of the active group.

The organization has members from Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill in addition to young men who are employed in and about the Bay Area. They are seeking interested persons who are employed locally.

Jayceee, as the organization is popularly known, is a young men's service organization devoted to the betterment of understanding and human relations and strives to develop the leaders of today and tomorrow. These ends are achieved by community activity and good fellowship, according to Bjornestad, who emphasizes also that social activities play an important role in the club.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 8 p.m. at the El Rancho Grande

. . . what KIND of a sheriff do you want?

Here's the Platform of Harry Brown:

Harry Brown is fully aware of the out-of-date law enforcement policies now in effect in the county.

He has an intimate knowledge of the capabilities of all personnel in the Sheriff's Department.

He has full knowledge of the county's police requirements.

He is aware of the illegal ties involving law enforcement in this county.

He has a determination to bring respectability to this county and its Sheriff's Department.

A JUVENILE PROGRAM . . . Harry Brown is dedicated to a program for juveniles in Contra Costa County whereby juveniles will be treated as children, not as criminals.

Harry Brown proposes to establish a Juvenile Guidance Agency within the Sheriff's Department. This agency would be designed to help misguided children before they break the law and go to state institutions.

AND . . . He will never allow rampant vice in this county and will not allow gangsters and gamblers to control any part of the Sheriff's Department.

He will return all civil fees and mileage to the county treasury, because he believes that morals and ethics demand it. Civil fees are those collected for serving civil papers throughout the county, a job now done by Sheriff's Deputies on the county payroll.

He will bring modern law enforcement to Contra Costa County, coordinating activities with those of all law enforcing agencies in the county. He will seek to establish local sub-stations—each with local telephone lines and to be manned 24 hours a day.

'Industry Can Play Key Role Aiding Schools' -- Bowersox

By GEORGE BOWERSOX
President, Contra Costa Development Association

Contra Costa's position is most fortunate and it can look forward to tremendous development in the Pittsburg-Antioch area and growth in other sections. But this county, too, is going to face problems.

And it is to these that the Development Association turns its attention as part of its objective of fostering and encouraging industry.

The central part of our county will grow by many thousands in the next few years. Any Pittsburg-Antioch area developments will be reflected in increased population in Central Contra Costa. Living is better here than in the immediate San Francisco Bay Area. More people are discovering it and are moving here to reside.

IN MOVING OUT of Oakland and San Francisco they want to leave behind the factories they knew there. They want "living." But it takes more than just their homes to sustain government, particularly schools.

Some industry is acceptable near residential zones. It is needed by them. We just hope that people can see the requirement they may face. Once an industry is established it expects to remain for many years and make its contributions to taxes and provide jobs for residents of the county.

If we can, we will avert any crisis such as is now and has in the past made newspaper headlines for San Mateo County. We want to avert what Marin County is facing with rejected school bond issues. Alameda knows, too, what school bond rejection means.

There is no thought of "shoving industry on people." We couldn't do that if we wanted to. And we don't want to.

People do have children, and Central Contra Costa is an attractive home area. We of the association are not alone in anticipating a school crisis in some parts of our county. Our school people—at least many of them—are alive to it.

NOT LONG AGO Dr. Ferd Kiesel of Mt. Diablo Unified District pointed out the need of industry to meet growing tax demands in this school district. He said some 87,000 acres in that area are without an industry.

"But we can't invite industry and then be unreasonable or unjust. We have to achieve balance in our views and our treatment of industry. It's very seldom that we find industry complaining. But we do find industry moving away. That, it seems, has proved more simple than fighting losing battles.

"Recently about 3900 acres in the Avon area have been designated industrial. That may be the means of meeting Mt. Diablo Unified District's needs. Some parts of the Mt. Diablo district now require 52 cents of every local tax dollar. That's equivalent to the figure that started the "crisis" cry in San Mateo. That's why men with vision like Dr. Kiesel realize our need for industry.

CONTRA COSTA County Superintendent of Schools B. O. Wilson is most mindful of industrial need and most appreciative of industry's contribution to an excellent school system.

The county superintendent faces a big problem in the future city of Moraga. The educational provisions that will be necessary for children from a population of some 28,000 pose no small problem. The superintendent, too, wonders whether industry can play a part.

Appreciation of industry, coupled with reasonable land prices, and plants acceptable near residential areas are needed to meet problems some parts of our county are sure to face. It is understandable that people want to keep homes areas as much homes areas as possible. We not only sympathize with the view but we will work with them to achieve it.

BUT WE HAVE FOUND our way made difficult in trying to improve conditions, because of the unreasonable position taken by residents of some areas in the county.

Just one illustration: An electronics industry, employing physicists, wanted a central county location. We faced $25,000-an-acre prices and objections to location of an industry that should be acceptable anywhere.

So appreciative were the people for whom the ineffective location efforts were made that they offered to pay all expenses and then, without any reason, voluntarily took out an industrial membership in the association.

They appreciated our effort. We hope we can achieve for industry the same type of appreciation from the public.

SAN MATEO COUNTY is being forced to it. Marin is putting up the welcome signs.

More people mean more children. More children mean more schools. They all mean the need for more jobs and more taxes, and only industry can provide more employment and funds.

Industry has not asked us to try to do an appreciation job. We've taken it up because we know what is happening elsewhere. We have the job figures, the school figures, the valuation figures to show us that we should spell the words in capital letters—"APPRECIATION."

Acalanes Adult Program Rolling

With nearly 50 separate classes in operation and several more to be started in the near future the first session of the Acalanes Community Adult program is now in full swing, according to A. D. Dambacher, director.

Despite a larger enrollment than at this same time last year, there are still openings in some of the classes as in both Monday and Thursday sections of Conversational Spanish language, he said.

A chance to develop your own photographic masterpieces and to learn other important technical information about photography is available in the photography class which meets on Wednesday evenings; driftwood sculpture offers an opportunity to express yourself in three dimensional art, he added.

New classes just getting under way include an evening class in ceramics and pottery making Tuesday evenings; a class in jewelry making, where emphasis will be placed on personal jewelry, using silver, copper and enameling processes, Wednesday evenings, and physical fitness for women, a class to improve figure and posture, Wednesday evening in the Las Lomas Gym.

U.S. Air Defense To Be Discussed

Lieut. Col. Roger B. Files of the U. S. Air Force will speak on "The Continental Air Defense Command" at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the 9441 Air Reserve Training Center, 2040 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

The lecture, second of a series of four on various aspects of the national defense situation, is sponsored by the local Ground Observer Corps and is open to the public, according to Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, post supervisor.

Colonel Files, director of training and associate professor of air science at the University of California, was formerly chief of the programing division for Eastern Air Defense Force at Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y.

Colonel Files' subject will include the present state of readiness and alertness of the Air Defense Command, the integration of all phases of refense, and the vital part played by the Ground Observer Corps in the accomplishment of the over-all mission of national defense.

The local Ground Observer Corps post serves the Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga and Walnut Creek area. Persons interested in this phase of defense work may obtain further information by calling Mrs. Salisbury at AT 3-2691.

JC to Present 'The Man Who Came to Dinner'

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," the New York Music Box Theater pre-war hit, will be presented by the East Contra Costa Viking Players, in Building 12 on the junior college campus, the nights of November 19 and 20.

Myron Nevis, a day student from Pleasanton, wlil have the role Monty Woolley made famous on Broadway, and Miss Jackie Pool of Concord, a part-time student, that of the long-suffering Maggie Cutler.

Progress Reported On New Club House

All of the foundation and some of the sub-looring are now in place in the new building of the Contra Costa Golf Club, Pleasant Hill.

The new club house, to replace one taken down earlier this year, will include men's and women's locker rooms, a lounge, a lunch room and a large patio.

The older building was removed because it was falling into a state disrepair and because of inadequate facilities.

Another new feature of the membership golf club is electrical golf carts which act as motorized caddies and transportation for players.

Described as "popular" by the club's professional, the four carts are rented to players, and their batteries charged between trips around the course.

An estimated 110,000 sport fishermen caught a record breaking total of 640,000 salmon in ocean and inland waters of California during 1953.

Camp Stoneman Approved for County Use

Members of Parent-Teacher groups, a citizens committee headed by Mrs. H. F. Neller of Lafayette, juvenile protection chairman for the 32nd District, California Congress Parents and Teachers, and the entire Board of Supervisors received word recently from Washington, D. C., that approval from Army Headquarters has been granted for county use of Camp Stoneman Military Stockade as a rehabilitation camp for boys.

WHEN IVAN GOYAK, supervisor of District 1, set a meeting date last April 27, in Martinez, regarding a rehabilitation camp for boys in Contra Costa county, little did he realize how soon it might become a reality.

With delinquency in the county increasing daily in keeping with the nation-wide trend, it should give citizens of this county "cause for sober thought," said John A. Davis, county probation officer, who is hopeful that facilities for sleeping, school and recreation will be available within six months.

A juvenile delinquency control workshop has been planned for next Monday, to be held at Alhambra High School auditorium, Martinez, with members of the 32nd district. John Davis, A. L. Bernes, Richmond school guidance, Sgt. Delmar Priest, Richmond juvenile detail, James York, state chief of probation and members of their staffs will participate. The workshop meeting is open to any citizen interested in helping control juvenile delinquency — starting time 10 a.m.

Acalanes Girls Tour Hospital

Twenty Acalanes girls interested in pursuing nursing as a vocation after high school graduation observed National Nursing Week by touring Oak Knoll Hospital recently.

The tour, arranged by the school's counseling department, was part of the Acalanes vocational information program which features on-the-spot tours and more than 30 vocational panels a year on occupations of interest to students.

Girls interested in nursing will follow up their tour with a vocational panel on nursing requirements and general opportunities in the nursing profession. Panels feature educators and successful participants in the vocations discussed.

Acalanes vocational study director Bruce Handley reports that by the time they graduate, Acalanes students have had an opportunity to investigate at least eight different occupational fields through panels, tours and other devices.

John Nejedly, Walnut Creek Rotary Club, assists Acalanes counselors in arranging for vocational panel participants.

Redlands, located in San Bernardino County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to be the largest orange center in the world and the home of Redlands University.

'C' Devils See Movies of Grid Games, Discuss Varied Problems of Football

By 'ERWIN MATTSON

I'VE JUST HAD THE PLEASURE of meeting with the "C" Devils, a University of California booster organization which gathers each Tuesday at El Nido in Lafayette.

The group reviews motion pictures of each week's game and has guest speakers from time to time.

Last Tuesday night prep coaches of the area were present to tell something of their respective teams. The tales of woe were many, with an optimistic note thrown in here and there.

Following pictures of last week's Cal-Washington State game, each coach present gave a brief talk, telling about his club and various outstanding individual players.

A general "bull session" prevailed ofter the talks.

ORVILLE STEFFAN, new head coach at Diablo, brought up the point that football is one game where the coach can't call time out and talk to the players, as is done in basketball and baseball.

He felt that high school players are immature in ability and thinking and need help on the field.

He pointed out that in the professional teams games, many are sent in every play.

It was suggested that such could be the case in high school, where the unlimited substitution rule is in effect.

Most of the coaches present didn't agree with the Diablo mentor's idea of being able to talk to the players during the game's progress.

Part of coaching is teaching defensive and offensive measures, and players have to have some initiative of their own to meet unusual or varying situations.

MOST COACHES FELT that players should be more than mere robots, dependent on someone else to do all of their thinking.

The Cal-Washington State motion pictures were exceptionally clear and gave a closeup view of the play, as a telephoto lens was used under ideal conditions.

Such pictures show clearly what each player does, and mistakes really show up.

Coaches and players, by looking at the pictures can analyze each play to perfection.

IT IS SURPRISING how few really well-run plays there are.

One back in the Washington State backfield made ONE block in the whole game. On other occasion he didn't try or he missed completley.

Pictures are tough to refute.

It is hoped that pictures can be taken of Acalanes games next year. A telephoto lens is all that is needed, and chances are the Block A Society will secure the necessary funds.

Open New Social Security Office

William T. Tradewell, 14 Berkeley Avenue, Orinda, recently announced the opening of a new social security office in Berkeley. Tradewell is Contra Costa County representative of the Federal Social Security Administration.

Located at 2033 Shattuck Avenue (phone TH 5-2435), the new office will serve all residents of Contra Costa County. Ara Zovickian, former graduate of the University of California and the UC Law School, will be the district manager in charge of the new office.

Now a major in the active Army Reserve, Tradewell took part in the European campaign in World War II and was recently decorated at the Presidio for his outstanding meritorious service in the combat zone of Korea in 1952 and 1953.

Preps Go Again Tonight

Win No. 1 Sought By Dons Against Panthers Tonight

Still seeking victory but encouraged by their second-half showing against Pittsburg last Friday, the Acalanes Dons take to the road tonight when they head out for Antioch 38 strong.

The word "strong" is used because all season long the squad has been hampered by injuries to key personnel, but now returning to the game are Eric McKinley, first string tackle, and Jon Palmer, first string guard. Both hove been out of action for three weeks but are now in top form and ready to go.

Don Ong, guard, and Dennis Busby, fullback, are recuperating from injuries, and as a result the Dons find themselves in their best shape since the season began.

IT REMAINS to be seen if the Dons can cope with a rugged Antioch eleven that trounced Las Lomas last week 31-6. Tonight's kickoff is at 8 o'clock.

In Carl Maxwell the Panthers have a speedburner at fullback who rates as one of the best backs, if not the best back, in the county.

In Grover Garvin at quarterback they have another speedburner who impressed fans with his running and passing last week.

THE DONS HAVE a club that on occasion has shown signs of becoming good but there have been too many lapses, particularly on defensive play.

The defensive play has been strengthened, with Halfback Butch DeVillers going to left half on the basis of his play in the Pittsburg game, while Harold Ecklund, a fast-improving sophomore, gets the call at defensive right half.

ANDY FADELLI, McKinley and Busby go as linebackers, and, if in the right frame of mind, they could prove to be a tough barrier to crack.

The Dons, shooting for a spot in the top three, have to win from here on out or end up in second division for sure.

Dons Push Heavy Attack But Lose To Pirates 38-13

The Acalanes Dons failed to hit the victory path last Friday night but they did put on an offensive show in the second half that gave the local rooters something to yell about.

The veteran and speedy Pittsburg club rolled to a 19-0 halftime lead.

The first Pittsburg TD came when the Pirates took the opening kickoff and drove 84 yards downfield with Quarterback Danny Hernandez throwing 11 yards to end Mario Rosa in the end zone.

THE SECOND TOUCHDOWN came when Pitt's fullback, Charley Esposito, ran 31 yards around right end to score.

The Dons came back with a drive of their own, going from their 30 to Pittsburg's 30, only to lose the ball on a fumble by End Dave Baldwin, who took a jump pass from Quarterback Red Jones and rambled from midfield to Pitt's 30 before bobbling the ball.

The loss proved fatal, as the Pirates mixed passes and runs, to take the ball to the Dons' 22, from where Hernandez heaved another TD pass to Rosa.

This time Halfback Johnny Weekly booted the conversion after having failed on two previous attempts, and at halftime it was 19-0.

THE DONS came back in the third period to set the Pirates back on their heels when they opened up with a spread formation which the Pirates had trouble no end trying to solve.

Taking the second half kickoff, the Dons rolled 68 yards to a TD, with Halfback Geoffrey Wahl tallying from 2 yards out.

Jones added the extra point when he tossed a pass to Dale Marcellini in the end zone.

PITT CAME BACK with an 85-yard drive in the fourth quarter, with a pass from Hernandez to Harper scoring the touchdown, but the Dons came back swinging to tally again on a 60-yard march.

The climax play came when Jones rifled a pass to Mike Barrett on the 10. Mike scrambled to the 2-yard line and fumbled when hit on a tackle. The ball scooted goalward, and Don End Pete Villa scooped it up and scored.

This time the conversion try failed, and the score stood at 25-13.

IN THE CLOSING minutes, the Dons inserted a host of reserves, only to have the Pirates score touchdowns twice on two long runs, one for 16 yards by Tom Di Mecurio and the other a 41-yard gallop with five seconds to go, by Willie Moore, and the game ended 38-13 in favor of the Pirates.

In the first down department, Pitt had 16 to the Dons' 12. All but two of the Dons' first downs came in the second half, when the Dons opened up with their aerial game, to loosen the Pittsburg defense.

Marcellini, Don fullback, had a good night as he averaged 6 yards per carry.

Jones stood out with his passing, while Villa, end, and Ron Huffaker, guard, were standouts with their all-around play.

Rams Will Host High-Rolling Pirates Tonight

The Pleasant Hill Rams play host to the Pittsburg Pirates tonight, with Mt. Diablo High field in Concord, which serves as the Rams' home field, the scene of action.

The high-rolling Pitt eleven is expected to notch another win, on the basis of the record to date.

The Pirates, undefeated and untied, are favorites to cop the pennant race, with Mt. Diablo apparently the biggest obsacle in their path.

BACKFIELD SPEED and all-around experience are expected to tell the tale.

Coach Hal Briggs of the Pleasant Hill eleven has had an uphill fight, and while they have as yet to win, the Rams have come close to pulling a couple of long shot upsets.

Handicapped by injuries to his thin ranks, Briggs has had to present a patched-up lineup most of the time.

IN THE GAME two weeks ago, the Rams lost a toughie to Las Lomas, 6-0.

Last week they gave the heavy Diablo club a run for its money, leading 6-0 in the early stages of the game, only to fall when the Devils' size and depth tired the Rams.

JIM AT FULLBACK is under the 160-pound mark, but all reports show him to be a hard driver who hits far harder than expected for his size.

Calvin Moore, halfback who has been out with a turned ankle, appears ready and willing, so will start in tonight's game.

He starts in place of Jardine, out with an injury incurred in last week's game.

'Time Out' Taken In Diamond K's Football Contest

Diamond K Supply's Football Contest is taking "time out" this week. It will be resumed next week.

Reason for the calling off of the contest this week is that in the list of games in yesterday's Sun Shopping News, most of the games listed by the paper were not scheduled for this weekend.

Watch for next week's contest, with $45 in merchandise orders to be offered as prizes by Bill Magrath, owner of Diamond K.

LAST WEEK, due to an error by which only 19 games were listed instead of 20, contestants had a better chance, with 19 correct guesses being the standard for first prize.

However, none of the 134 entries submitted in time made that score. Closest was Smed Ambler of 220 El Toyonal, Orinda, who had only one wrong guess and so won a $15 merchandise order.

D. F. Ehritt, 29 Elliot Drive, Concord; R. Henderson, 1930 Alvina Drive, Pleasant Hill, and G. E. Dillon, 2836 Euclid, Concord each had only two wrong, so the $5 merchandise order was split among them, resulting in a $1.66 merchandise order for each.

Four entries last week were postmarked after 11 a.m. Saturday, and two were not on the official forms. Therefore these could not be considered.

Panel of Experts On Scouting Due At Council Meet

"Stop for Scouting" will be the subject for a panel discussion at an areawide meeting of the Diablo Valley Council. Girl Scouts of America, on Thursday, 12:30 p.m., at the Walnut Creek Women's City Club.

Mrs. J. Orr Kyle will be moderator of the panel and chairman of the affair.

Panel "experts" will be Mrs. George W. Bregar, program director for the council; Mrs. W. T. Barrows, member of the nominating committee, and Mrs. Robert Freeman, organist. There will also be audience participation.

All adult workers in the movement and mothers of Girl Scouts may attend the event. Refreshments will be served.

It costs you at least $2.50 extra when you go through the tunnel to shop. Save at home!

Knights Tackle Devils Tonight

The Las Lomas Knights, stinging from their 31-6 gridiron loss to the Antioch Panthers last Friday night, will be out tonight to upset the dope bucket when they face the big and rugged Diablo Devils on the turf of Acalanes Memorial Field.

Kickoff is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Last week the Knights played loose ball in the opening half and got themselves deep in the hole, trailing 25-6 at the half, only to rise up on their collective hind legs the second half and practically battle Antioch to a standstill.

Tonight the Knights will be outweighed by 20 pounds to the man, and, on top of that, they are short on varsity experience.

THE CHARGES of Coach George Deklotz have been on the short end before, however, and have come through with upset wins.

The Knights will be hurt with the loss of their ace halfback, Rick Ostrom, who will be on the sidelines with an injured leg.

His place will be taken by Steve Cook, who came through with a surprising performance last week.

BURDEN OF the offense will fall on Bob Kinyon, who has been a stalwart all season long in the fullback slot with his power-running.

Vikings to Play First Conference Game Tonight

After four practice games, East Contra Costa's Vikings finally move on to the conference schedule tonight, when they tangle with their traditional rival, the Salinas Panthers of Hartnell College. The game will be played on the Salinas turf, with the opening kick-off scheduled for 8 p.m.

The Vikes dropped their first game to the Yuba College Forty-Niners last Saturday night by a 42 to 27 final score, after Coach Buffa had lost the services of Marv McKean, first string quarterback .

McKean suffered a broken leg during the last minutes of the first quarter of the game. A fast charging Forty-Niner line caught him when he had to run with the ball, after failing to find a pass receiver.

McKean, whose fracture will keep him on the bench for the balance of the season was joined on the injury list by a host of wounded Vikings. Larry Reece, halfback from Concord and Fullback Dave DeJesus of Crockett, are both out with bad knees.

Bill Edelman, fullback from Concord suffered a chest injury, while Frank Aiello is nursing a bad ankle. In the line Norm Walker of Concord, is sidelined with a bad back and wrenched shoulder.

While Aiello may be ready for the Hartnell game, none of the other injured players will suit up for Hartnell, according to Viking Coach Hal Buffa.

Berkeley-Acalanes Districts Agree On Border Pupils

Several high school students living on the border of the Berkeley School District, while inside Acalanes High School District, may attend Berkeley high schools if an inter-district agreement is approved by the district attorney.

Entered into by Acalanes trustees on October 11, the agreement provides Acalanes will pay the cost of education, less money that comes from state and federal sources.

In other action, trustees turned down a request by a group of residents headed by Ernest Rahmeyer that a pool be built at Miramonte High School by next summer.

While interest was expressed in the proposal, trustees pointed out an amount of heavy construction will be under way next summer and utilities and other facilities will not have been completed at that time.

For the record, trustees instructed Superintendent Neil Parsons to file an application for state building aid, though the district does not now qualify.

The recent hiring of three clerks and a teacher was approved, a state required audit was accepted, and the hiring of an inspector for Miramonte construction was also authorized.

Las Lomas Fullback Who Prefers to Play Baseball Is Named 'Player of the Week'

By BILL STANTON

A Las Lomas High School senior who really prefers the game of baseball has been named "Player of the Week" following his performance last Friday night as a fullback for the Knights.

He's Bob Kinyon, the 167-pound son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kinyon of Homestead Avenue, Walnut Creek, and the second Las Lomas football player to be so honored by The SUN and Grodins of California.

AND THOUGH Las Lomas dropped a 31-6 decision to Antioch, Bob's play was outstanding enough to earn him a nomination from his coach, George Deklotz, for the honor given to encourage true American sportsmanship.

"He packs a terrific amount of drive," Deklotz said of him, adding, "he's been consistent all year and has the best rushing average of the team."

"He has also been doing our kicking and punting in the last two games and he takes coaching well," he said.

And we got a clue to what Deklotz meant in his last comment as we talked to Bob and asked him why he played fullback.

"I PLAY WHERE the coach puts me," was his reply. He also told us he had played the same position for the past three years.

And despite the platoon system, Bob plays 60-minute ball, doing both defensive and offensive work.

And though he likes baseball better, he told us, "I love football." And of his other preferences, he confided he likes offensive work better than defense and he really likes to kick.

In his favorite sport, Bob held down a first string spot as an outfielder last year on the horsehide squad, with a batting average of .372.

In addition, he plays basketball, where he was a second string guard last year.

IN THE FIELD of bookwork, he told us he is preparing for be an engineer, "So, I have a stiff course." And of his grades, he said, "They're not the best and they're not the worst."

Another game that Bob does well in, not a common one for fullbacks, is chess. He is a member of the chess club at school as well as the Block L, a lettermen's society. He is also vice president of his class.

He has not yet decided where he will go to college, though he is considering Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley. He plans to go out for both football and basketball when he pursues higher education.

THOUGH GENERALLY modest, Bob displays a confidence necessary in any real athlete — he has faith in his team.

"If all the fellows are up," he said, "We might beat Diablo. And then there's Acalanes. We'll all really be up for that game."

In recognition of his play, Bob has received a minature gold football from Grodins and The SUN and he will also be honored at an awards banquet at the end of the year.

Lassen County, Mount Lassen and Lassen Volcanic National Park are all reported by the National Automobile Club to have been named for Peter Lassen, early Danish pioneer in this Northern California area.

27-6 Devil Win Comes Only After Tough Ram Battle

As in many games this season, the final 27-6 score in favor of Diablo far from tells the complete story of the Diablo Devils-Pleasant Hill Rams game at Concord last Friday night.

Underdogs in every sense of the word, the Rams gave their all as they battled a heavy and veteran Diablo eleven down to the wire.

Diablo took the ball on the opening kickoff, only to fumble on the first play, with the Rams recovering when they pounced on the ball on the Devils' 27.

THE RAMS, determined to make the most of the break, drove to the 3-yard line, and from there Quarterback Steve Buckman took matters into his own hand and tallied on a quarterback sneak.

Diablo, stung by the early setback, came back on the kickoff, to go 54 yards in nine plays, and scored when speedy Halfback Dick Brown circled his own left end for a TD from 27 yards out. The conversion try failed, as had Pleasant Hill's, and it was all tied up at 6-all.

The Devil machine got into action again midway in the second quarter when Diablo took over as the Rams fumbled on their own 44.

IN SIX PLAYS the ball rested on the Rams' 2, from where Higgins took it over and Fullback Rego Piva ran the conversion, making the count 13-6. That's the way it stood when the gun sounded, ending the half.

In the second half the Rams failed to score, but Diablo hit pay dirt twice.

In the third period the Devils drove 58 yards the hard way, with the score coming on a quarterback sneak by Dorsey Allison from the 1-yard line.

IN THE FINAL frame the Rams lost their chance for a drive of their own when they bobbled a punt and Diablo took over on the Pleasant Hill 15. The miscue proved costly when Diablo tallied with Piva taking it over on a 6-yard drive up the middle.

Piva was in the limelight again when he ran the conversion point.

Junior Fullback Jim McMillan was the big gun for the Rams. He stood out with his fine offensive and defensive play, just as he has done all season long.

Pleads Guilty to Passing Check

A probation report will be submitted and sentence handed down November 1 in the case of Mrs. Margaret Farr, 34, former Lafayette beautician who recently pleaded guilty to a charge of passing a bad check.

Mrs. Farr was returned to Contra Costa County from Chicago to face the charge of issuing a fictitious $34.46 check in a Lafayette market last March.

She pleaded guilty before Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor.

Latest estimates of world motor vehicle registrations show that the United States now has about 74 per cent of all passenger cars and 48 per cent of all trucks in the world.

DESPITE THE DETERMINED look of Acalanes Quarterback Dennie Combs, he was brought down by Piedmont's number 20. Throwing a block is Bud Dodge, hard-hitting tackle who is trying to hold off the opposition. Even though the Dons fought hard, the Highlanders kept scoring. In the end the score was 33 to 6. The Dons' only touchdown was scored in the third quarter when a Piedmont man dropped a punt in the end zone booted by Mike Barrett and downed by Dave Baldwin. A later run to a touchdown by Jerry Coakley was called back by the ump. This practice game opened the season.

Panthers Defeat Knights, 31-6

The Las Lomas Knights had their troubles last Friday night at Acalanes Field when they dropped a 31-6 decision to the fast and capable Antioch Panthers, who proved to be tough defensively and offensively, with weight and experience taking their toll over the thin ranks of the Knights.

Antioch was off to a better than good start when it took the opening kickoff and, with Grover Garvin carrying, came back 60 yards before being down on the Las Lomas 20.

The Knight defense tightened—but not tight enough, as Garvin sneaked over from the 2 five plays later, with only three minutes on the clock.

THE KNIGHTS, stung by the quick score, came back on their own with a 60-yard drive highlighted by a 25-yard pass play from Halfback Rick Ostrom to Halfback Don Ogden. The score come with Ostrom scooting around end for the final four yards.

Antioch came back to duplicate the Knights' march with a 60-yard drive of its own, including a 25-yard pass from Garvin to Carl Maxwell.

The touchdown came on Halfback Bob Beratta's play from the 2. The conversion was good and the score stood at 13-6.

IN THE SECOND quarter, Antioch scored two TD's, with Maxwell doing the honor both times on thrusts from 5 yards out.

The second Antioch touchdown of the second quarter was set up by a 30-yard pass from Garvin to Maxwell.

The half ended with the Knights on the short end of a 25-6 count.

IN THE SECOND half the Las Lomas eleven tightened their belts, particularly on defense, as they held the Panthers to a lone fourth quarter TD. That came when, late in the game, Antioch took to the air-lanes. Garvin tossed a 30-yard pass to End Don Golarto, who added 10 yards of his own to go over standing up.

The Knights now have a 1-1 record in league play, having defeated Pleasant Hill in their opener, 6-0.

A MESSAGE
To 11 Families of Taste

If you've been seeking — with some disappointment, perhaps — something particularly individual and distinctive in a home, this may be good news.

At "Hedgewood Manor," in Ygnacio Valley near Walnut Creek, a group of 18 — and only 18 — homes will be built, each superbly designed to reflect the ultimate in gracious living. Now 7 nice families have already purchased, so there are 11 remaining. "Hedgewood Manor" is intended not for the many, but for those few families who can appreciate good taste in architectural detail and painstaking craftsmanship in construction.

Each home will be custom-built to meet the owners' needs for family and entertaining, and to express their particular concepts of a richer, fuller home life. Distinctive in every detail, each home features a heavy cedar shake roof, used brick trim, sliding glass Vista door opening onto patio and lanai, indoor barbecue in the family room, roomy baths, electric kitchen and other features. The setting, too, is spacious and luxuriant . . . 1/3 acre estates, heavily wooded with spreading full-grown trees. A model home is open now at "Hedgewood Manor" for your inspection. Just follow the directions below, or, if you prefer, stop at our office and we'll be pleased to escort you.

POLITICAL POT

Joslin Endorses

A. D. "Dike" Joslin of Martinez, retired Contra Costa Deputy Sheriff and one of the bay area's best known criminal investigators in his active years, today endorsed B. W. "Dick" Richardson for election as Sheriff.

"I know of Dick Richardson's eight years of fine service as a highway patrolman and four years as a constable," Joslin said.

"He has had experience in many phases of a Sheriff's work. Important now, too, are his training and service as a civil defense co-ordinator. He has it now. He doesn't have to achieve it. He is also trained in administrative and executive work. His 20 years of important civilian service provides training it is hard to exceed in qualifications for the Sheriff's Offee. It recommends him to every voter," he said.

Absences Noted

"Shocking proof that the Sixth District is getting ineffective representation in Congress is the attendance record of the incumbent at the 83rd Congress," William F. Anderson, Walnut Creek, 10th Assembly District chairman of the John Baldwin for Congress Committee, charged today.

"The incumbent missed 29 out of 129 quorum calls during the two sessions of the 83rd Congress. He missed 39 out of 142 rollcall votes. In other words, the incumbent was absent 25.1 per cent of the time. Legislation of importance to every resident of Contra Costa and Solano Counties was being debated while our congressman played hooky from Capitol Hill," Anderson said.

He charged that in addition to being shown as "not recorded" on seven rollcalls pertaining to the strengthening of security measures against communist infiltration, the incumbent missed voting on legislation concerning labor, housing, social security, veterans benefits and agriculture appropriations.

"He failed to vote on Social Security Amendments (HR 9366) providing improved old-age and survivors insurance programs and expanding coverage. He failed to vote on extension of the unemployment compensation program (HR 9709). He again was recorded as 'not voting' when veterans' compensations and pension improvements were voted (HR 9020)," Anderson said.

Doyle Speaks

Donald D. Doyle, 10th District Assemblyman, and State Senator George Miller spoke to the senior classes at Acalanes High School October 18.

Both Doyle and Miller explained the workings of the California legislature in the annual address to the future voters of California.

Doyle Endorsed

Johnson A. Thomas Jr., chairman of the Democrats for Doyle Committee in Lafayette, endorsed Donald Doyle for re-election as Assemblyman to the 10th District by issuing the following statements:

"Doyle's record speaks for itself. This district owes Don a deep debt of gratitude for his outstanding accomplishments in Sacramento in obtaining much needed legislation. He is a true friend of all Democrats and Republicans."

"As Past Commander of Doyle's American Legion Post, I know of his record in Veterans' Affairs and his fine war record as a Marine sergeant in World War II," Chairman Johnson said.

"Thinking people will send Donald Doyle back to the Assembly to enable him to continue the good job he has been doing," Johnson concluded.

Condon Speaks

Congressman Robert L. Condon of Walnut Creek this week addressed the Richmond Lions Club at their luncheon meeting, on the subject of the United Nations.

Condon pointed out that despite its imperfections the United Nations offers the most realistic approach towards preserving a peaceful world.

Condon said "the United Nations, by providing a forum for the great powers in the free world, as well as the soviet dominated countries, is in this fact alone serving a useful function. Obviously, with the different political, social and economic systems represented in the United Nations complete unanimity is not to be expected."

"Much good has been done to relieve some of the tensions of the world and I believe it is better to have a United Nations forum where you can shoot words instead of bullets. All of us would like to see the United Nations be really effective since a World War III might mean horrible destruction," he said.

Bandwagon Rally

Residents of Contra Costa County crowded Acalanes High School auditorium for the "Baldwin Bandwagon Rally" Wednesday night. Movie actor George Murphy introduced John Baldwin, Republican congressional candidate.

Baldwin stated he will support President Eisenhower's program, statehood for Hawaii and Alaska, reducing the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 and amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act.

"This district is now represented by on incumbent congressman who is the only congressman that the Atomic Energy Commission has ever found necessary to bar from witnessing atom bomb tests as a 'security risk,'" Baldwin said. If our representative cannot or will not take the steps necessary to eliminate this restraint and black mark against our district, this leaves the only alternative to the voters of removing him from office by their vote on November 2."

Baldwin's speech followed entertainment which featured George Murphy, master of ceremonies; Paulette and Her Poodle, Ford and Harris, comedian Ken Card and a jazz band.

Mrs. Vad Jelton and Mrs. William Freeman of Lafayette were in charge of the affair. Members of Baldwin clubs and Republican clubs from throughout the county assisted them.

State Candidates Have Their Say

What do the candidates for governor, for lieutenant governor and for U.S. Senate have to say about the basic issues of this year's campaign?

Today The SUN, to assist its readers in answering these questions, is printing the answers the two candidates for each post gave in a questionnaire prepared and circulated by the League of Women Voters of California.

Those included are Governor Goodwin Knight, Republican, and Richard Graves, Democratic candidate for governor; Lieutenant Governor Harold J. Powers, Republican, and Edward R. Roybal, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor; U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, Republican, and Samuel W. Yorty, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate.

STANDS ON ISSUES
(Governor and Lt. Governor)

Question 1 — Do you believe in increasing taxes to build up a surplus for times of need, or do you favor taxing only to meet current needs of government?

KNIGHT: I will always do my utmost to maintain reasonable rainy-day reserves. However, I will not ask the tax-ridden people of California for another dollar to build huge surplus funds which invite needless spending and pressure raids on the State Treasury.

I strongly favor sound, economical government in California — and if savings are possible, I believe the people should have the money in their own savings' accounts, rather than to permit it to pile up in State vaults.

GRAVES: Many state programs expand in times of economic distress; few can be contracted. A responsible state administration must do its part, in advance, to spread the shock of economic distress over as broad a time period as possible.

State income must be maintained at a level which will support authorized state programs and provide some emergency cushion.

POWERS: Under normal circumstances, I do not favor accumulation of large unappropriated surpluses. Taxes should be only high enough to meet current requirements, plus a moderate cushion for contingencies.

If revenues consistently exceed expenditures, I believe it is sound policy to fund outstanding debts, then reduce taxes.

ROYBAL: Government should be operated in an efficient manner which will provide a surplus on the current budget. Such surplus to be transferred to a reserve account to provide for unexpected needs on governmental operations.

Question 2 — If new revenue is required, do you believe it should be obtained by new taxes or from tax sources already on the books? If new taxes, from which sources?

KNIGHT: As Governor, I am in a different position from other candidates with respect to answering this question, as any statement I might make becomes the official policy of the State.

Determination of appropriate tax sources is a complex problem that requires careful study by the State Department of Finance and the State Legislature to determine specific revenue needs, and I cannot speak in this regard until my budget message is sent to the Legislature.

Of this I can assure you — that I will do my best to see that taxes are equitably distributed, so that no group is required to carry an unfair share of the tax load.

GRAVES: New revenue is needed — now. In obtaining it, we should be guided by the following principles: (a) oppose any increase n consumer taxes on those least able to pay.

(b) in general, base tax incidence on the ability to pay principle and avoid the creation of "privileged" segments of our economy; (c) in choosing particular taxes, not penalize the investment of risk capital in new and expanded enterprise.

POWERS: It is impossible to say what new taxes might be necessary without knowing what our specific requirements are. Governor Warren proposed a new cigarette and tobacco tax along with increases in liquor and horse racing taxes. These probably would be increased and the so-called luxury group covered if a sales tax increase is necessary.

ROYBAL: New revenue can be provided by the careful application of present tax laws. If additional revenue is needed, it should come from a source other than the sales tax.

Question 3 — Do you approve of the proposed constitutional amendment to divorce Alcoholic Beverage Control from the Board of Equalization and place it in a separate department?

KNIGHT: It is vitally important that present unsavory liquor conditions in California should be cleaned up, and it was my privilege, as Governor, to call the Legislature into special session to draft a program which will remove liquor control from the State Board of Equalization and provide the State with adequate regulatory and enforcement machinery.

I strongly urge support of Proposition 3 on the General Election ballot, and shall do everything in my power to secure its inactment.

GRAVES: Yes, I approve the amendment. Experience indicates that the election of boards to perform special regulatory functions does not work in the public interest.

The influence of the regulated group or groups on the election process is destructive of effective control. The Governor should be fully responsible and accountable for the conduct of the proposed liquor control agency.

POWERS: As a member of the Senate, I supported a similar proposal in the 1953 Legislature. Although the Lieutenant Governor does not have a vote in the Senate, newspapers throughout the State carried my public statement, during the March 1954 Legislative session, urging enactment of this liquor reorganization legislation.

ROYBAL: I am not fully in agreement with the proposed amendment. This power should not be vested in one individual, but upon a Commission elected by the people and not appointed by a public official.

Question 4 — In what legislation are you especially interested? Please state support or opposition.

KNIGHT: I am vitally interested in sponsoring and promoting a better mental health program in California, and have taken steps toward that end. The youth-destroying narcotics traffic has been placed under more stringent control during my administration, and I am determined to erase California's shameful record on narcotics.

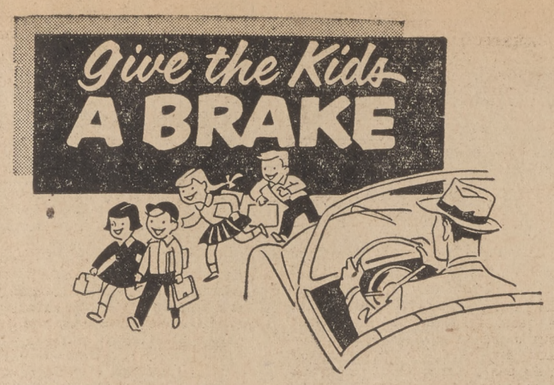
I am for fairness and against extremism in business-labor relations. I am opposed to repressive labor legislation, and with respect to business and industry. I am opposed to government intervention where private initiative can do the job.

I believe in a sounder education approach based on recognition of the obligations of the community to its teachers; on better recruitment of teachers; on passage of adequate school bonds for decent, uncrowded school plants, and on adherence to American principles in teaching young Americans.

GRAVES: Oppose: State purchase of CVP. Current drastic cut in financing of state university, college and institution building program.

Support: Mater program for full public and private development of water and power resources. Effective state and regional smog control agencies. State participation in aggressive program of economic expansion.

Support: Establishment of state development agency as exists in 37 states. Effective FEP legislation. Abolition of cross-filing. Emphasis on mass transit as well as highway construction. Stepped-up state leadership in agricultural matters, including representation in Washington. New look at the present piecemeal and inadequate school building program.



Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I need enlightenment on the sheriff's campaign, and so do many others in this area.

You have been consistently sharpshooting at Dick Richardson, candidate for sheriff, linking him by innuendo or stronger with gambler "Big Bill" Pechart. He is the same Pechart who was given Kefauver Committee notoriety and subsequently was denied a Nevada gambling license.

My puzzle and that of many others:

In Antioch there is a veteran publisher named Al Flaherty, a two-fisted, courageous, non-punch puller. He feels just about as you do about gambling.

HE HAS REALLY done things about it in his area. He has expressed himself freely and sharply on many occasions. People, politicians and public officials really listen when Flaherty cuts loose.

He published the Pechart gossip stories too. Richardson went to him, denied any connection with Pechart and said there was and would be no truck with him or his ilk.

Flaherty made his own investigation; then published the results. He went into the campaign gossip about Richardson, too. There followed an Antioch Ledger editorial that endorsed Richardson without reservation.

THE RESULT: Richardson carried Antioch 3 to 1. And will carry it in that fashion, or better, in the general election. For he has Al Flaherty with him, not just 100 per cent, but, to use Flaherty's language, "200 per cent." The people of Antioch know Flaherty, his fairness, his stand for right and his judgment.

Flaherty stated his "200 per cent" support of Richardson recently to an Orinda lady, who seemingly questioned at a political meeting a statement of Flaherty's support of Richardson. She phoned Mr. Flaherty and she got an unequivocal affirmative answer.

And Flaherty went farther. He made the lady's telephone call the subject of a full-length editorial and again proclaimed his "200 per cent support" of Richardson.

YOU'LL HAVE TO ADMIT Flaherty is a tough-minded man, tough on gambling, demanding about public service. He is a veteran newspaperman who knows how to investigate and how to sift the chaff from the wheat and man who can't be "approached."

He's for Richardson.

You are against Richardson — on the basis of campaign gossip that Flaherty has ripped to shreds and condemns.

Is Flaherty right? Are you wrong? Or vice versa?

DO YOU HONESTLY think one of Richardson's intellect and experience would invite trouble by hobnobbing or dealing with a man whom the Kefauver Committee assailed and who could not even get a gambling license in Nevada? Surely you must accord more judgment to any man.

Really, haven't there been foisted on the people some pretty petty politics and some unpretty political stories? There have been some shabby tricks by partisans on both sides, such as you recorded incident of pulling down of signs of your candidate. It is matched by the rock wrecking of large Richardson cloth signs in Martinez.

But, back to the meat. Tell us your views of Publisher Al Flaherty's "200 per cent support" of Dick Richardson. Richardson must have something to impress a veteran like Flaherty to such a degree.

Very truly yours,
PAUL C. PEASE

Dear Editor:

On October 13 our Gregory, frozen to a high tension wire, was killed, and received his life again by what we consider a Divine miracle.

Dead when he left the wire, he was hurled clear of the tree branches and to the ground 30 feet below to live, and is now in Kaiser Foundation Hospital recovering from nothing worse than horrible burns on his feet and one hand.

As Greg puts it simply, God wanted him to live so He flung him from the wire, "real hard so I could breathe again, and real soft so I wouldn't get hurt."

Following the account of this accident in the papers and on the radio, we received a deluge of phone calls and letters. People offered their time, money, cars, blood, and most precious of all, their prayers. Dozens of groups which must have comprised thousands of people in the area called to say that they would like to pray.

A Korean boy who had worn a silver ring as a talisman all during the war gave the ring which had kept him safe so that it might keep Greg safe also.

We are humbly grateful for all this sympathy from our friends and from hundreds of strangers. But most of all we feel, as we would like to remind all of your readers to feel, that this demonstration of disinterested love and compassion and desire to help is really a demonstration that humanity is much nearer a real, universal brotherhood than we know.

When we grow to the point where this same outpouring is given by us all to the Russians and to the Red Chinese, then the problems of the world will have been solved by the power of love — the only power which will really ever solve them. The power of prayer is real, and bortherhood is a growing force in the world.

Sincerely,
GEORGIA BUSCH,
Lafayette.

Dear Editor:

As one drives over the highway and by-ways of Lafayette, one may notice numerous vacant store buildings, buildings that were not vacant prior to 1952.

Now, kind hearts and gentle people, are these vacant stores to be regarded as symbols of Republican prosperity?

Assistant Attorney General Speaks to Peace Officer Grads

State Assistant Attorney General Clarence A. Linn addressed 35 graduates of the Northern California Peace Officers Training Center at St. Mary's College on October 9 following a 1 o'clock luncheon in the main dining room. He was introduced by John P. Peper, training supervisor for the State Department of Education.

Dignitaries from the Contra Costa Junior College District, one of 13 state, federal and county agencies cooperating in the training center, appeared on the program as well as class officers. Charles E. Grant, special supervisor of peace officers' training, State Department of Education, was the master of ceremonies.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

Who is right — Ledger or Sun?

Two days ago I swore that I wouldn't fill today's column with Brown vs. Richardson. Then, Paul Pease walked into the office, handed me a two page letter and asked if we'd print it.

Before you read farther, please digest Paul's letter in the adjoining column.

Have you read the letter? Okay, let's go. Here's my answer:

Al Flaherty, editor and publisher of the Antioch Ledger, is everything Paul says he is. Al is a courageous, independent and tough publisher. Some years ago he cleaned up Antioch and has kept it so. He fought former Sheriff John Miller and present Sheriff Jim Long. I admire and respect Al Flaherty.

Members of the 200% club

Al Flaherty is 200 per cent for Dick Richardson.

Well, four years ago I was 200 per cent for Dick Richardson. His friends were 200 per cent for Dick when he said he was going to run for sheriff—against Jim Long. We were enthusiastic. We made plans.

I took Richardson to a chamber of commerce meeting and introduced him. HE ADDRESSED THE GROUP AS A CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF. He accepted money for his campaign.

Dick appealed to me as a wonderful candidate. He has a splendid personality, good looks, a good club man, law enforcement experience. He is a most persuasive man, an able speaker.

Richardson suddenly announced he was not going to run for sheriff. He left his job as Richmond constable, took a vacation for a month, and later was appointed to two good jobs—Richmond Civil Defense Coordinator and Manager of the Richmond Auditorium. He still holds both.

At the time Richardson explained he never really said he would run for sheriff, that he only was investigating the possibilities. (He admits, however, that he spoke to the chamber of commerce as a candidate.)

A few months ago Richardson stated to me, and it has been so printed, that he withdrew after he spoke to Sheriff Long at a dinner party. He said it was understood that Long would support him at the next election. And Tom Carlson told me the other night he also was instrumental in getting Richardson to pull out.

Why did he withdraw?

Rumors were rampant then—and now—about Richardson's withdrawal. Some months ago The SUN carried Richardson's adamant denial that he had received $50,000.

Richardson has been named Sheriff Long's heir. Tom Carlson is supporting him and contributed $1000 to his campaign. All the political power in the county has been mobilized behind Richardson. It's the same old gang that's been running this county for years.

Next witness — Bill Pechart

What about Bill Pechart? You know about him and his partner Dave Kessel, who for years have controlled gambling and vice in this county. Their syndicate in Contra Costa was called by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee the "biggest, boldest, most wide-open operation of its kind in Northern California." Kefauver called Kessel "one of the most sinister characters" the committee has examined and added that "Pechart runs him a close race."

These boys operated with Sheriff Long in office. They have admitted as much under oath. Long is supporting Richardson. District Attorney Francis Collins, another one of the political wheels, has been closely linked to Kessel. The links are endless.

The word has been out for months that Pechart is supporting Richardson.

Richardson for-sheriff sign is (or was) posted on Pechart's front office windows. I have pictures on my desk to prove it. But the stories go far beyond this.

Flaherty confirms the rumor

Al Flaherty in an editorial said, "Pechart had been in this area presenting himself as a supporter of Richardson but that Richardson had ordered Pechart pulled off."

"Richardson went to some of his supporters and demanded that they stop Pechart, or anyone like him, from taking part in the campaign on Richardson's behalf, that he wanted none of that kind working for him," Flaherty wrote.

This is mighty interesting because it confirms what we have been told many times—that Gambler Bill Pechart has been seen actively campaigning for Richardson.

Have you at any time read a statement from Dick Richardson repudiating Pechart's support? Has Richardson publicly stated he wants no support from Pechart?

Have you read a statement from Richardson saying he will prosecute Pechart or any of his many cohorts if they break the vice laws?

Dick is asked about this

Before the primary election in our Walnut Creek office, I discussed the Pechart matter with Richardson.

Richardson said he had not asked for Pechart's support. He emphatically denied reports that Pechart had contributed thousands of dollars to his campaign.

I asked why he didn't clear the air and issue a statement that he had not asked for and he would not ACCEPT support from Pechart.

Dick said he had been advised not to make such a statement, that a denial would merely hurt his cause. He did not—and has not—come out against Pechart's support. And Richardson will probably agree that it is now rather late to issue such a statement.

Who's Who in the county

I like Dick Richardson personally. But as a candidate for sheriff, I must study his associates.

Among these are almost every pressure group in the county, including the entrenched machine of Tom Carlson, Richmond Independent, George Gordon, Francis Collins, Jim Long, etc. Then, Richardson is backed by The Davi Machine which controls Pittsburg, several chiefs of police and other law enforcement officials who were criticized by the past grand jury, and the gambling interests.

In addition, Richardson is supported by the informal machine of county officials and employees who seem to control certain votes in and around Martinez and a few powerful union leaders who have given their union endorsement to Richardson. (There is no question, however, that such leaders and endorsements cannot deliver the labor vote.)

I forgot to add one group—some of the Richmond Democratic wheels made a deal with some of the Richmond powers (mostly Republicans). The Demos would support Richardson in trade for the "cooperation" of the Richmond Independent. "Cooperation" meant the Independent would downplay or ignore stories critical of Congressman Bob Condon. The Independent is for Baldwin but it would give Condon a break. This deal was consummated. It is a fact.

So, let's get back to Paul's letter. Who is right—the Antioch Ledger or The SUN? I think Al Flaherty has been sold a bill of goods. But let the voters weigh the facts and may the best man win!
